County 4-H Members and Future Farmers Win $214.50 in Prizes At Atlantic Rural Exposition

Over 100 County Boys And Girls Attend Fair In Richmond Tuesday

Twenty first prizes and $214.50 in prize money as well as numerous second, third, fourth and fifth prizes were the record chalked up by Princess Anne County boys and girls who attended the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond this week.

More than 100 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America attended the fair from the county, and every club member who exhibited won recognition against State-wide competition.

Prizes won were as follows: Frances Mae Williams, first place for hen, pullet and old pen, and second place for cockerel and young pen, exhibiting Austria Whites.

Sylvia Ann Miller, three first places, cockerel, pullet and pen for Brown Leghorns.

Buddy Redfearn, Rhode Island Reds, first places for hen and pen; second for pullet and third for cockerel. Also winning two first places for Rhode Island Reds was Ira Fisk, cockerel and pullet, and second for pen.

Walter Graves, two first places in Buff Plymouth Rocks, cockerel and hen, and second for pen. Felix Reader, two first places, cockerel and pullet, for White Plymouth Rocks.

Carol Davenport, first and second places on Light Brahma pullets, and second places for cockerel and pen.

James Lindsay, exhibiting New Hampshire Reds, first place for pullets, second for pen and fifth for cockerel.

David Stewart, first place pen of White Leghorns, and second place for pullets. Ernest Pentreiss first on pullets and second on pen. Between them they captured the first two highest honors in the two classes in White Leghorns.

Eugene Martin, New Hampshire Reds, second on cockerels, third on pullets; Lonnie Martin, second on pullets and third on pen; Frank Hudgins, third on hens and third on cockerels, and Richard White, fourth on pullets.

Edward White, second place on pullets and third on hens in the White Plymouth Rock breed.

Carol Caffee, second place in White Leghorn hens, and Ronald Graves, third in cockerels and fourth on pullets in the Buff Orpington breed.

Walter Humphries, Walter Gresham, Johnny McClure, Warren Brinkley and Edward Wright took five of six firsts for garden vegetable baskets.

Henry Smith, first place on vegetable baskets for storage, and Mallard Smith, second.

Princess Anne boys took three seconds on potatoes: Richard White, on cobbles; Warren Brinkley, on Red Elbas, and Johnny McClure, on Sebagoes.

George Lindsey, representing the Princess Anne FFA, won first place in Puerto Rico sweet potatoes, and Johnny Morris, a 4-H boy, won third in this class.

Clark Whitehurst won fourth place in White Hybrid corn and Jimmy Morris fifth place in the same group. Both are FFA boys.

In the 4-H corn competition, Vernon Eaton won seventh place and Ira Fisk eighth.

The county young people sent a full truck load of exhibits.

Beach Residents Pay Visit to Father Philip Brennan in W. Va.

Recent visitors to Berkeley Springs, West Virginia, where they called upon Father Philip P. Brennan, former parish priest at Star of the Sea Catholic Church, were Dr. N. G. Barr, Mrs. Lillian Mann, Mrs. Hazel Longman, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lester, and Mrs. Helen Schroeder.

In a letter to the News, Father Brennan said that his life "was brightened by the visit to Berkeley Springs" of so many of his former parishioners and friends.

He continued: "One and all admired the beauty of the church but were not so enthusiastic over the Rectory, as it was the former first hotel of the resort with 26 rooms and was donated to Bishop Peter L. Ireton when the hotel was replaced by the sumptuous Park View Inn, the leading hostelry of the mountain resort. . . . When the visitors came the rectory was being renovated from attic to cellar and will present a more liveable appearance when completed."

Father Brennan added that "How heat the Rectory?" was a question he has not yet solved!

New Women's Wear Shop Opens Here

Zollies', a new shop featuring women's wear, has been opened up on 19th Street in the Jefferson Hotel Building.

The shop is under the ownership of Mrs. Susan Zollieffer White and Mrs. Tuppie Zollieffer Morrisette. The two have just returned from New York where they went on an extensive buying trip for their shop.

Jaycees To Conduct Scrap Paper Drive

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will collect scrap paper again on October 29. They have asked residents of Virginia Beach and this area to save papers and magazines for them and have them ready for pick-up on the 29th when the club will make a door-to-door canvass.

Savings Bonds Are Best Investment For Farmers

Farmers can strike a heavy blow against inflation by investing their surplus money in United States Savings Bonds, Chairman Clarence R. Bryant of Princess Anne County Savings Bonds Committee, said today.

Savings Bonds represent the least inflationary type of government borrowing during the present period of defense spending, Mr. Bryant added. Savings Bonds sold to individuals are not transferable and therefore cannot be used as the basis for further spending while held by the individual.

Although a person can cash his Savings Bonds any time after sixty days from the date Bonds are issued, most people hold their Series E Bonds until the maturity date ten years later. The Series E Bonds held to maturity increase by one-third in value. Meanwhile, they are a reserve for emergency needs.

Since farmers, as much as any group in the country, know the hard lessons resulting from price inflation, they will be interested in helping to prevent wild inflation during the present national situation, Mr. Bryant said.

U. S. Savings Bonds can be bought at any bank or post office.

Plans for Coastal Road Deferred Temporarily

Commission Still Hopes Project May Be Started Soon

The projected Coastal Road which will connect Nags Head and Virginia Beach is a temporary war casualty, according to an announcement made this week by the Virginia Coastal Turnpike Authority. The delay is for the time being only, it was emphasized, and came about as the result of advice of fiscal agents of the commission set up by North Carolina and Virginia.

Sidney Banks, who is chairman of the Turnpike Authority, explained that bids, which were due to be opened early this week on a $2,700,000 revenue bond issue, would be returned to the interested investment houses. The fiscal agents, he said, believed that construction should not be started until the international situation has cleared.

Mr. Banks declared that the members of the two-state body are confident that the financing of the project can be reactivated very soon and are "as anxious to get started as we ever were."

The movement to build the toll highway got past the talking stage about two years ago when representatives from Virginia and North Carolina agreed to work jointly in the project.

Since then, separate commissions have been appointed by the legislatures of the two states, and engineering and right-of-way acquisitions, as well as other planning, have been completed.

Besides Mr. Banks, members of the Virginia authority are Fred A. Haycox, vice chairman, and Sidney S. Kellam.

The North Carolina commission is composed of Wayland Semons, of Washington, N. C.; Guy H. Lemmon, of Nags Head, N. C.; and Ray Adams, of Corolla, N. C., and Washington, D. C.

Legion Auxiliary To Meet Monday

The American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 113, of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach, will meet on Monday evening, October 9, at 8 p. m., at the American Legion Club House. The meeting will mark the first under the presidency of Mrs. J. M. Carter, newly elected head of the group.

The program will feature the Rev. Harmon Bro and Mrs. Bro, of Chicago, Illinois.

Glenn Dill Writes Parents After Being Wounded in Korea

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dill, of 9th Street, Virginia Beach, are in receipt of two letters from their son, Glenn, Jr., after word was received by them that he had suffered wounds in action in Korea.

Young Dill reported that his wounds were not extensive, and that he was preparing to go back to the front. His letters to his parents are cheerful and filled with candid good humor.

He wrote in September: "The way everybody's thinking, the war will soon be over. I don't know—it looks good one day, then the Gooks come back stronger than ever. Maybe somebody forgot to tell them. In a little while, though, something is coming off. Some of the men on the line were relieved by the British. Sure glad to see them and the Australians. The latter sure are fighters. A British soldier said that three fourths of them have spent time in Malaya, and have a lot of flame throwers. That's one thing the Gooks are really scared of . . ."

JACK WROTON

Jack Wroton Enters Apprentice School

Jack Ward Wroton, of Virginia Beach, entered the Apprentice School of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company in August as an apprentice pipe-fitter.

Young Wroton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wroton, of 318 24½ Street, Virginia Beach. Mr. Wroton is commanding officer of the Coast Guard Station.

Young Wroton attended Oceana High School.

Travel Council to Meet at Natural Bridge October 27

Proposal to Establish New National Park To Come Before Group

The Virginia Travel Council will hold its annual meeting at Natural Bridge on October 27 and 28.

One matter to be proposed before the council will be a proposal for the establishment of another national park in Virginia. Backing the movement at this time are civic organizations at Buchanan, Clintwood, Hays, Pound and a number of other Virginia communities and similar organizations in Elkhor, Jenkins and Pikeville, Ky.

The new park proposed would be in the Breaks of the Sandy, or Cumberland, on the Virginia-Kentucky border. It is also called the Grand Canyon of the East. Its proponents refer to it as one of the most beautiful spots in eastern America, with five miles of waterfalls, palisades and rugged, eroded mountain formations rising 1600 feet above the river.

Most of the impetus of the movement to date, according to the council, has come from Kentuckians who formed the Breaks of the Sandy Association about a year ago. Through this organization highway construction that will make the area accessible to the motorist already is underway both from Kentucky and Virginia. The Virginia highway reaches the Breaks from Honaker. Both the Virginia and Kentucky sections of the road are due to be open in the spring of 1951.

Officials of the association plan to appear before the council to ask it to aid in preserving what they claim to be an unspoiled natural wonder that has hitherto been inaccessible, and which they claim will create another major travel objective.

Silver Star Awarded Sessoms Nephew

General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters has announced that Major William T. McDaniel, of Albany, Ga., nephew of Whit G. Sessoms, local real estate agent, has been awarded the silver star for gallantry in action in Twain. Major McDaniel's citation came as a result of an attack which he led which retook a battery of howitzers after it had been overrun by the enemy. Major McDaniel has been a frequent visitor to Virginia Beach and is well known here.

Mrs. Ashburn Will Serve As Seal Sale Drive Chairman

Committee Named At Board Meeting Held Thursday

Mrs. W. R. Ashburn was named chairman for the annual Seal Sale drive for Virginia Beach at the regular quarterly board meeting of the Princess Anne Tuberculosis Association held yesterday at the Presbyterian Church, with Mrs. E. M. Hardy presiding.

Mrs. Ashburn's committee is composed of: Mrs. P. W. Ackles, Mrs. W. Gordon Beakin, Mrs. P. C. Booker, Misses Brooks, Mrs. W. C. Brice, Mrs. W. M. Carpenter, Mrs. W. F. Crockett, Mrs. Carl S. Forsberg, Jr., Miss Chess Hardbarger, Mrs. Vivian B. Hodgson, Jr., Mrs. J. P. Holland, Jr., Mrs. Sidney Kellam, Mrs. W. W. McClanahan, Jr., Mrs. D. O. Shelburne, Mrs. R. B. Taylor, Mrs. Vincent J. Thomas, and Mrs. Arthur J. Windsor.

The annual Christmas Seal Sale is the sole support of the Tuberculosis Association which carries on a year around health education program and case-finding clinics in cooperation with the county and state health departments. This is accomplished by a mobile X-ray unit, fully equipped for taking and developing X-ray films of the chest. It was operated three days at the Princess Anne County Fair in September. On October 9 it will be at the Ocean Park fire station and on October 11 at the East Ocean View Civic League. The hours will be 3 to 6 and 7 to 9 p. m. Persons who are employed or who are not able to get to the day clinics are urged to take advantage of these afternoon and evening clinics as these hours will not be observed again until May. There will be day hours only through the winter and early spring.

Oceana Junior Varsity Defeated by Creeds Football Team 33-12

The Creeds High School football team defeated the Oceana Junior Varsity 33 to 12 in an afternoon game played at Oceana September 28.

Creeds, sparked by the sensational running of Otto Halstead, scored an easy victory over a hard fighting Oceana eleven. Halstead scored a total of 26 points, with four touchdowns and three extra points. Eugene Flemming, Creeds right end, scored the final tally on a twenty yard pass play.

Coach Sechler said he was very pleased with the defense tactics used by Creeds.

Government Printing 'Best Seller' Books

The Federal Government is carrying on a thriving book-selling business, the Government Printing Office announced today, as it found another best seller on its hands, the second within a month. Orders started pouring in to the Superintendent of Documents in Washington for the National Security Resources Board's newest publication entitled "United States Civil Defense," which sells for 25 cents. Over 5,000 were sold the first day of an initial printing of 30,000 copies of the book, which is described as the most comprehensive publication issued to date by the Federal Government on civilian defense.

The Government's other best seller called "The Effects of Atomic Weapons" was released last month and is now in its fourth printing. Over 40,000 copies have been sold at $1.25 each of this book issued by the Atomic Energy Commission which describes what may be expected when an atomic bomb explodes.

Junior Chamber of Commerce to Sponsor 'Voice of Democracy' Contest in County High Schools

Mrs. Tisdale Speaks At Lynnhaven Garden Club Meeting Tuesday

The Lynnhaven Garden Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Wadsworth, of Lynnhaven. Mrs. Paul White and Mrs. Don Kunkler served as co-hostesses.

The club heard Mrs. Edgar A. Tisdale speak on her trip to Bermuda and the exotic flowers found there. The group planned a Halloween party for the children in the neighborhood. A plant exchange was held.

Ribbons were won by Mrs. Edwin C. VanHorn, Mrs. William Bradt, Mrs. C. C. Gorman, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Mrs. H. E. Keiser, Mrs. Don Kunkler, and Mrs. Paul White. The door prize went to one of two new members, Mrs. R. B. Carter. The second new member is Mrs. Gorman.

25th Anniversary To Be Observed By P. A. Woman's Club

The Woman's Club of Princess Anne County will observe the 25th anniversary of its founding with a luncheon, October 11, at the Pine Tree Inn. Speaker for the occasion will be M. P. Strickler, principal of Oceana School.

Musical entertainment by Joseph R. White, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Hitchings, has been arranged by the music chairman of the club, Mrs. George Aldridge. Mrs. Sidney S. Kellam, chairman of decorations, will carry out silver and white in the table appointments.

Mrs. McCarthy Wins Cavalier Country Club Championship

Mrs. Grace McCarthy last week won the Cavalier Country Club's annual championship when she won two up on 18 holes from Mrs. Tilda Hastings. In addition, she qualified as medalist with a 78.

Other winners were: Mrs. Tilda Hastings, runner-up; Mrs. Dot Lippincott, champion consolation; Mrs. J. H. Hoffman, first flight winner; Mrs. Frank Atkinson, first flight runner-up; and Mrs. Horace Woolf, first flight consolation.

Play in the tournament started in September and ended Friday. The awards were made Monday.

Creeds Students Presented Checks For Fair Awards

George Lindsey, Clark Whitehurst, Frank Williams, Stanley Williams, Dempsey Vaughan and Morris Vaughan, of Creeds High School, were presented checks totaling $47.00 for prizes won at the Princess Anne County Fair during an assembly program on Monday at the school. Blair Myers, instructor in vocational agriculture, made the awards.

In addition, Stanley, Dempsey and Morris won the $50.00 special award, offered to the 4-H Club members and Future Farmers for exhibiting livestock, by the Curling Farm Supply of Greenwich. Stanley won second place at the Fair with his spotted Poland China gilt. Dempsey and Morris took first boar, and Morris with a Duroc Jersey, the former with a Yorkshire Jersey sow with ten white pigs about two weeks old.

Stanley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williamson of Back Bay. Dempsey and Morris are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vaughan of Back Bay.

Winners in Four High Schools to be Awarded Radios

The Junior Chamber of Commerce of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will once again sponsor the Voice of Democracy Contest in the county schools as a feature event of National Radio Week during the period October 29 through November 4. This will be the second year in which the Jaycees have brought the contest to local high school students.

The contest is a public speaking-radio script contest for high school students to state, by local competition, state-wide and national competition, the four outstanding students who will represent the "Voice of Democracy" in America among school youth. Roy C. Deal has been named chairman of the Jaycee Voice of Democracy committee.

Last year's winner in Princess Anne County was Miss Sara Suther, of Kempsville, who represented the county in the State competition. Other winners were Jackie Whitehurst, Creeds High School; Herman Staats, Oceana High School; and Cora Walks, Princess Anne County Training School. All winners were presented valuable prizes.

Prizes to winners in the four high schools of the county will be radios, according to the Jaycees, in addition to a special award to the county winner, who will be chosen from the four high school winners.

The Jaycees will work through the principals of the various high schools, as last year. In the 1949 competition, Jaycee Ralph Jordan, Boy Scout Field Executive recently transferred to the Washington area, was in charge. His work in that contest was so outstanding that the State Junior Chamber of Commerce named him chairman for the entire State for this year's Voice of Democracy competitions.

Co-sponsors with the Junior Chamber of Commerce are the National Association of Broadcasters and the Radio Manufacturers Association.

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

This week the nation is celebrating National Newspaper Week, with the slogan "American Newspapers—Truth to a Free People." The Virginia Beach News took the occasion to check back over its past years, in candor and honesty, to see if it is living up to the responsibility put upon it to bring the "truth to a free people."

A newspaper is, above everything, a symbol of what freedom and democracy mean fundamentally, and in a period of stress and danger, such as our country faces today, the burden put upon a newspaper to execute its function faithfully is great.

We checked ourselves against a checklist—we put ourselves on trial before our own consciences. We asked ourselves:

Are we part of our community? How well do we serve our community?

Do we keep our readers informed about all matters which concern their daily lives? Do we print both sides of a controversy in our news columns?

When we make mistakes, will we admit it? Do we always correct errors?

The answers to these we jotted down: We try to serve our community to the best of our ability and in the light of our belief that a community must be good and honorable, just as its individual citizens must be good and honorable, if it is to survive. We noted here that we would strive to better our community service in the future.

We endeavor in our news columns to make known both sides of a controversy, for we respect the citizen's right to make up his own mind, and if we are to help him we must give him the facts on both sides. When we make mistakes, we will admit it.

Then we asked ourselves a tougher question, one tied in with the "Truth to Free People" slogan. Would we again take the editorial stand which we have pursued throughout the past two years? Would we again endeavor with every tool at our hand to expose the gangsterism and privilege which flourishes in our community? Would we have the courage to face the threat of financial loss that such a stand has entailed?

We did not take long to answer that one. The answer is YES.

We would be willing to forego the weekly contracts for large advertising accounts that came to us with the stipulation that we "soft pedal" our editorials against lawlessness. We would be willing to face the threat of boycott that was whispered so freely at the time of the grand jury hearing this summer. We would not mind having those princely fellows, the punks and small time racketeers, point us out on the streets in an effort to ridicule us to others of their ilk, and have our friends tell us that "you can't fight 'em."

We believe in a free America and Democracy. We believe in a free press. And as long as we are privileged to have a stake in free America and Democracy, and a tool to express ourselves, we intend to take full advantage of it.

Freedom is a wonderful thing, and it takes full time to work at it to keep it pure.

ALONG THOSE LINES—

Wonder why the big bookie closed his doors this week? and a couple of the "clubs"? We would like to believe it is because the heat is on, but we doubt that angle.

GRAND JURY INDICTMENTS COME TO TRIAL

The forty-odd indictments which grew out of last summer's special grand jury hearing to investigate reports of widespread gambling and illegal sales of whiskey are to be tried in Princess Anne Circuit Court on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The outcome of the trials is a matter of much speculation about the Beach and in the county at the present time. Will they, like the lower court hearings in connection with the ABC raids which followed the grand jury, turn out to be much ado about nothing?

In the latter trials, you will recall, the State did not present evidence which would substantiate its claims that certain of the "night club" operators were "aiding, abetting and maintaining" a nuisance even though the same clubs had been raided time and time again, and were in the past found guilty of illegal sales of whiskey. The State, moreover, was unable to show that operators of these establishments had "knowledge" of the irregularities of their bar men or their waitresses in making illegal sales, hence were guiltless. (It might be well to add here that many of these same operators, instead of being angry at these naughty girls, the waitresses, even paid their fines, which amounted to $100 for each violation. Such charity and forgiveness is really commendable, isn't it, kids?)

But back to the Circuit Court hearings. Will the pattern be repeated? Will the little guy also be the fall guy? Will there be no effort to get back the little guy to discover who is making it possible to break the law with impunity?

We hope that the Commonwealth, as represented by our local court, will not put itself in the position of the doctor who treats the symptom and forgets all about the disease. If so, it is just possible that the patient will have a tough time surviving.

LOOKING BACK

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO—OCTOBER 4, 1929

The Oceana Cavaliers were all set to play Poplar Branch after having lost their first game of the season to Hampton. Only four lettermen were left on the team, with the previous spring's graduation having taken a heavy toll. Probable lineup of the Cavaliers against Poplar Branch was: Nimmo, center; Billy Rogers and Edwards, guards; Harris and Marshall, tackles; Anderson and Bond, ends; Braithwaite, quarterback; M'Illes and Henly, halfbacks; and Moser, fullback.

Industry Teams Up With Farm Youth In 4-H Club Work

National Congress in Chicago November 26 To Draw Thousands

Ten years ago only a handful of industrial concerns were supporting 4-H Club work nationally. Today, through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, nearly 50 industries, businessmen and women are backing up their faith in two million 4-H Club members with incentives valued at $400,000 annually. This amount is distributed for awards and leader training funds in 4-H programs which range from canning to tractor maintenance.

"The money is considered a sound investment in the nation's future by encouraging these rural boys and girls who have pledged their head, heart, hands and health to make the best better," declared Guy L. Noble, director of the National 4-H Committee, a non-profit citizen's group.

"4-H youth learn by doing," he stated, "and guiding their efforts are 225,000 volunteer club leaders who work under the direction of the Extension Service of the State agricultural college to carry out 4-H program objectives." The teen-agers do a man-sized job in their projects, according to Mr. Noble, and by the time they reach 21 many are well on the way to becoming independent farmers, while others have substantial bank accounts.

Letters to Editor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR—13
Mr. L. B. Milton: We found the contents of your letter most interesting, but as a matter of benefit to both you and ourselves we would like to check with you some of the facts contained therein. Since we have been unable to locate you, we are taking this means of asking you to come into the News office sometime early next week in order that we may go over some of the data with you.

—The Editors

The question of transportation of school children was the chief issue taken up at a meeting of the school board, according to the October 4, 1929, issue of the Virginia Beach News, but crowding close upon that sore subject in importance was the overcrowded condition of the first four grades at Kempsville School. Superintendent Johnson suggested that certain children be removed to Bayside School.

Sheriff John Litchfield was reported to have killed a rattlesnake the previous week on the state road between Princess Anne Court House and Kempsville which measured four feet long and had 12 rattles.

The Woman's Club held its fourth annual birthday luncheon at the Cavalier Hotel, with Colgate Darden as principal speaker. Newly elected officers assumed their duties for the coming year. They were: Mrs. R. B. Taylor, president, re-elected; Mrs. T. C. Johnson, Dr. Cora Z. Corning, and Mrs. N. A. Nicholson, vice presidents; Mrs. H. M. Capps, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Floyd Dornire, recording secretary; Mrs. R. L. James, treasurer. District chairmen were: Mrs. Randolph Oliver, Kempsville District; Mrs. John Potter, Lynnhaven; Mrs. F. O. Baum, Blackwater; Miss Matie Coggin, Virginia Beach; Mrs. Luke Hill, Seaboard; and Mrs. F. A. M. Burroughs, Pungo.

Business, Professional Women To Hear Judge Kellam Speak

Judge Floyd E. Kellam will be principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Princess Anne County which will be held at the Community House on Monday, October 9, at 8 p.m.

Judge Kellam will speak on the "Value of the Business and Professional Woman to the Community." The October meeting is in charge of the Public Affairs Committee of which Mrs. Rosalene Simpson is chairman.

The club is planning a card party to be held at the Community House on Tuesday, October 17, at 8 p.m., in order to raise funds to be used for community service.

In-house Educational Foundation; Kerr Glass Mfg. Co.; Spool Cotton Educational Bureau; Cancellation Company; Lederle Laboratories; Simplicity Pattern Co.; General Motors; Illinois Central Railroad; International Harvester; Wash-Kevinator; American Forest Products Industries; Allis Chalmers; Montgomery Ward; Kellogg Co. of Battle Creek; Pure Oil Co.; Mrs. Charles R. Also, Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Edward Foss Wilson; Horace A. Moses Foundation; Thos. E. Wilson; Dearborn Motors; United States Rubber; Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.; Spinnery Yarn Co.; Cudahy Packing Co.; American Oil Co.; Gene Autry and Wm. Wrigley, Jr. Co.; Proctor Electric; Santa Fe Railway; Sunbeam Corporation.

Among the awards for outstanding achievement are trips to the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago. Here 1,100 state and national champions accompanied by club leaders assemble from every part of the country. They are joined by delegates from Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The 1950 Congress will convene November 26, and for five days the boys and girls will be treated to the best the Windy City has to offer in educational tours, food, entertainment and other events. During the meeting, 150 college scholarships will be presented to club members chosen for national honors.

This year a total of $15,112 in U. S. Savings Bonds, and 227 watches will be offered to state winners. Beautiful gold and silver medals representing 20 different projects will go to 4-H members for winning county honors.

can help...

—take the "Irk" out of homework!

WE'RE not suggesting that you do the sums or write the compositions—but the plain truth is that many youngsters do their homework reluctantly because of improper or inadequate lighting. In many cases, grades reflect light!
Now—with school putting extra demands on young eyes, and days getting shorter—is a good time to check your home for lighting conditions. Remember that good general illumination is important, with special lighting properly directed to work and study areas, without glare.

Eyeglass is priceless—good light is cheap!

FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES!
Keep a good lamp on the study desk or table.
Keep lighting equipment clean for maximum efficiency.
Fill every socket with eight-watt saving lamps... 100 to 150 watts for reading lamps.
300 watt globes for indirect floor lamps.

Gleason-Dill Marriage Solemnized Saturday at Presbyterian Church

The marriage of Miss Jane Susanne Dill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Irving Dill, of Virginia Beach, to Lt. Robert Beauchamp Gleason, USA, son of Mrs. Robert Joseph Gleason, of Baltimore, Md., took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Frank H. Vandryk performed the double-ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Robert F. Davis. The church was decorated with candles and white gladioli. Mrs. Agnes Aldridge played the wedding music and Miss Anne Reese sang "Ich Lieb Dich," "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin styled with a fitted strapless bodice, buttoned jacket finished with a cuffed scoop neckline, long sleeves ending in points over the hands and full gathered skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of Stephanotis, and she carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid and showered with Stephanotis. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Miss Shirley Shull, of Ridgefield Park, N. J., was maid of honor for cousin and wore a fuchsia taffeta gown with fitted bodice, bolero jacket, and full skirt. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of blue delphinium and wore a headband of delphinium in her hair. The bridesmaids were Miss Arden Kirby and Miss Anne English, both of Williamsburg. They wore French blue rows like that of the maid of honor, and carried gladioli, with matching headbands in their hair. Miss Judith Lehman, cousin of the bride, was flower-girl. She wore a white net colonial dress, a headband of pastel flowers and carried a basket of flower petals.

Recipes of Princess Anne & Old Virginia

SOUTHERN BISCUITS OR BEATEN BISCUITS

I am giving you a recipe that we have had in the family for many years for what we call

"Southern" biscuit, but which I understand is the same as for beaten biscuit. It is a lot of work, but my family has always liked to have them for special occasions.

probably out of sentiment more than anything else.

I rub about a tablespoon of lard into about four cups of flour to which about 3/4-teaspoon of salt has been added. I add water until I have as stiff a dough as possible. Now comes the work. Knead the dough with the hands until it is smooth and pliable and pops under the pressure of the hand. (And that takes a lot of kneading.)

Roll dough between the palms to form balls about the size of a walnut, flatten and prick the top with a fork. Bake in a hot oven until the edges of the biscuit are hard.

SALLY LUND

Scald a cup of milk and add a tablespoon of butter or other shortening to melt. Let this cool, then add a yeast cake you have dissolved in half a cup of luke warm water, salt, and two tablespoons of sugar, 2 eggs and about a quart of flour. Beat well and let it rise. If you want it for dinner at 7 o'clock make it up at about 12 o'clock, then about 5 o'clock beat it well and put it in buttered muffin rings and let it rise until about 20 minutes before dinner time. Bake in a hot oven (about 425 degrees).

"John Loves Mary" Cast Announced By Little Theatre

The complete cast of the Little Theatre's initial performance, of the 1950 season, "John Loves Mary," has been announced by the director, Mrs. Arthur Massey. Constance Crockett Crosby and Hardy Cole will play the title roles of Mary and John.

"John Loves Mary," which will be staged at the Roland Theatre, October 23 and 24, tells the story of John Lawrence, home from three years overseas, and his sweetheart Mary McKinley. They are, and have been in love, and are to be married. In the meantime, however, John, whose life has been saved by his buddy, Fred Taylor, has married Lily Herbish, an English girl, in order to get her into the country for Fred, who loves her. He plans to get a quick and quiet divorce so that Fred can marry Lily, but all plans fall through and things look hopeless until the surprise climax, when, after three uproarious acts, all ends happily.

Stages in the development of a hyacinth grown in water.

FORCING HYACINTHS

by Paul Freese

Editor, Popular Gardening
One need not wait until spring to have hyacinths in bloom. They are easily forced indoors in winter. Big, top quality bulbs imported from Holland are used for window flowerings.

There are two popular ways to force hyacinths indoors. Some people find it best to plant bulbs in soil in pots, either one bulb to a small pot or several of one color in a large pot. Potted bulbs have to be stored in a cold dark place for two months or so until the pot is full of white roots before bringing the pot of bulbs to a light window indoors for flowering.

It's more fun to force hyacinths in hyacinth glasses, however, for the none can watch both the tops and roots grow and develop, week by week. By starting bulbs every two weeks, one can enjoy hyacinth blooms from New Year's day to spring.

To get a start, select a plump, firm, large size hyacinth bulb, which has been specially grown in Holland for indoor forcing. Clean the bottom of the bulb by brushing lightly to remove any soil, dead roots and dry, loose skins. The bulb might spoil if this material is left on.

Hyacinth glasses are made especially for bulb forcing. The top is shaped like a cup and the bottom of the vase is wide and flaring to hold the roots. Some of these glasses are hand blown by the famous Leerdam Glass Works of Holland.

Fill the bottom of the vase with enough water to bring it nearly to the base of the bulb, which nestles in the top of the glass. Be sure there is air space between the bottom of the bulb and the water. An eighth-inch clearance will do.

Each bulb needs an eight week rooting period in a cool, dark place before it is ready for forcing. Here's where many people make a mistake. They're impatient to get flowers too soon, or they keep the bulbs too warm. Any place away from heat and frost, such as a preserve closet or a cold corner of the basement will do. Avoid damp storage places which will start blue mold on the bulb. Cover the bulb with a basket or box whenever there is too much light.

Soon, white roots will start to reach for the bottom of the vase and stubby green leaves will push up from the bulb. But the cool storage period must continue until the roots are colling around the bottom of the vase, the leaves are over four inches long, and the bud cluster about three inches high.

By this time, the tightly packed buds have pushed up through the leaves. The time has come to bring the bulb to a light window.

Even now, don't rush the bulbs into bloom. Choose a cool north window, at least at first, because too quick a change into a warm sunny window will ruin the flowers.

Within a day or two in the light, the pale yellow leaves and buds will turn rich green. Then, as the flower stem stretches, the buds take on their true color. Layer by layer the buds open from bottom to top of spike. In a cool window the fragrant bells will last several weeks.

Dutch hyacinths in beautifully tinted glasses make a lovely picture.

ture silhouetted in the window. Spring's in the air when hyacinths fill your home with their sweetness.

Conservative estimates based upon calculations of the bureau of census indicate that an additional 8,000,000 students will be learning their three Rs in the nation's schools by 1959-60. The National Education Association predicts the total enrollment in both elementary and secondary schools throughout the country will jump from 26,635,000 to 34,091,000 in the next ten years.

OCEANA HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

CAVALIERS TO MEET PORTLOCK TONIGHT

Tonight, Friday, October 6, the Oceana Cavaliers play host to Portlock High School at the Cavalier Stadium.

Portlock, who last week crushed Kempsville 32 to 6, is favored but it promises to be an exciting game. They'd like to avenge the 12 to 6 defeat at Oceana's hands last year.

FACULTY MEETING

The Oceana High School faculty held a lengthy session Monday night, September 26, at which time several items of importance were discussed.

The group discussed: discipline, school activities, assembly, lunch room program, schedules, and the grading system.

It was agreed that good discipline promotes good work and in turn makes for a better school.

The grading system for the coming year will be as follows: A—95-100, B—84-88, C—81-83, and D—75-79.

Activities will rotate on Mondays and sponsors for same are as follows: Beta Club, Gornito; Allied Youth, Hudgins and Long; 4-H Club, Sandidge; Literary Club, Lyon and Sandidge; Newspaper, Gornito, Piekhardt, Broderick and Preston; Student Government, Cox, Bailey, Owens, Sterling and Taylor; Publicity, Farley, Sandidge, J. Hudgins and Tomko; Monitorial Comm., Bailey, Gornito, Long, Loving and Sandidge; V. E. A. and Local Association, Broderick; N. E. A., Owens; United Nations Day, Long, F. Hudgins and Lyon.

The Annual and Dramatic Club were left for further discussion.

BAND NEWS

The Oceana High School Band played a benefit show Tuesday night at the Virginia Beach Drive-In Theatre. Half of the proceeds will go towards the new band uniforms.

The Band spent last Saturday in Williamsburg where they, along with Kempsville and Creeds, played at the William and Mary-Cincinnati football game.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The Rev. Frank H. VanDyck, minister of Virginia Beach Methodist Church, spoke in assembly Wednesday morning, October 4, at Oceana High School. He took as his subject "The American Symphony of Life."

Mr. VanDyck's talk was preceded by a solo, "The Mission of the Rose," by Joanne Hughes, a sophomore. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Elizabeth Preston, music director of the school.

CAVALIER GARDEN CLUB TO MEET MONDAY AFTERNOON

The Cavalier Garden Club will meet Monday afternoon, October 9, at 2:30 p.m. at the parish house of Galilee Church. Following the business session, Sam Thresher, of Greenbrier Farms, will speak on "Fall Planting and Ornamental Plant Material."

The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Rudolf Watson, Jr., Mrs. E. A. Davien and Mrs. Carey Pennington. Mrs. John E. Adenbrook will preside.

PRINCESS ANNE GARDEN CLUB TO MEET AT LAKE LAWSON

The Princess Anne Garden Club will meet Monday, October 9, at 10:30 a.m. at the Wild Flower Preserve at Lake Lawson for a tree planting ceremony and picnic lunch.

MISS CAROL SIMPSON NAMED CHAIRMAN OF STATE GROUP

Miss Carol Simpson was named chairman of Community or Little Theatre Groups for the Virginia

Speech and Drama Association at a recent conference for the Virginia school and drama groups. The meeting was held in Richmond at the Richmond Professional Institute.

OCEANA GIRL SCOUTS TO COLLECT SCRAP PAPER

Troop 201 of the Girl Scouts will pick up scrap paper again on Saturday morning, October 9, in Oceana. Residents are asked to have their scrap paper ready for the girls, and tied up if possible.

Now's the Time to Start A New Lawn

According to the Garden Editor of House Beautiful magazine, mid-August to late September is the best time to start a lawn for most parts of the country. He explains that "then your new grass gets a big start (grass grows until freezing weather and starts again early in the spring) before the weed seeds get a chance to germinate." In an article titled "Why are America's Lawns So Poor?" the author lists the best types of lawn grass for different parts of the country and the principal mistakes made by amateur gardeners trying to grow lawns.

The per pupil expenditure for textbooks and instructional supplies at the turn of the century was 22 cents. The cost for instructional material today, based on the dollar value of 1900, has climbed to $3.44 per pupil, the National Education Association reports.

WHAT'S BEHIND THIS AWARD ?

FOR THE FIFTH TIME,* THE NORFOLK AND WESTERN RAILWAY HAS WON THE HARRIMAN MEMORIAL GOLD MEDAL... THE HIGHEST HONOR IN RAILROAD SAFETY. WHAT'S BEHIND THIS RECORD? WHAT'S THE STORY THAT CAN BE READ BETWEEN THE LINES?

The Norfolk and Western didn't "just happen" to win this great national honor for making the best safety record among the large Class A railroads of the United States in 1949 — because safety doesn't "just happen" anywhere.

This achievement was in the making many years ago when the N. & W. began studying safety intensively... teaching it scientifically... "living, sleeping and breathing" safety so that it could be practiced for the welfare of its employees, its passengers, its shippers.

It is a story of searching ahead for ever-better and safer operating methods. It is a story of operating with constantly improved, safer facilities... of willingness through the years to spend hundreds of millions of dollars for an increasingly efficient, safer railroad plant.

It is a story of dependable, level-headed employees who cooperate with each other and with the management... employees faithful to the purpose of serving the railroads' passengers and shippers to the best of their ability... skilled workers who know that safety is the first law of good railroading.

The Norfolk and Western and the Norfolk and Western Family are proud of their safety records. But they will not rest on their laurels. As long as the N. & W. operates, this railroad and its employees will continue to "live, sleep and breathe" safety for the welfare of those it serves and for themselves.

* The N. & W. has been awarded the coveted Harriman Memorial Gold Medal for the outstanding safety records among Class A railroads for the years 1949, 1947, 1940, 1938 and 1926.

During the twelve years, 1938-1949, inclusive, the N. & W. carried 32,879,700 passengers a total of 4,597,621,431 passenger miles without a single fatality to a passenger in a train accident. In employee safety, during the same period, the casualty rate was 4.27 per million man-hours worked, which was 58% below the national average. Since 1915, when a planned safety program was started, progress in accident prevention on the N. & W. has resulted in saving 1,269 employees' lives and the prevention of 50,745 employee injuries.

Hatchett Named Town Manager at Council Meeting

Carroll Bounds to Continue as Town Engineer

Virginia Beach will have a new town manager on October 15, it was announced at the town council meeting held on Tuesday.

He is W. Russell Hatchett, commissioner of revenue for Princess Anne County.

His annual salary was set at $7,500 with a $500 allowance for expenses.

The appointment was approved by the unanimous vote of the councilmen present. Mr. Hatchett was recommended by the finance committee, which has been examining applications since January when the first town manager, Lawrence Lockwood, was ousted from office.

Mr. Hatchett's appointment did not come as a surprise to many residents of the resort. To date, no appointment has been made to fill his county position. The appointment will be made by Judge Floyd E. Kellam, Judge of the Princess Anne County Circuit Court.

Carroll Bounds, town engineer, who has been acting as town manager as well, will retain his engineering post. He said he felt the combined jobs were too big for one man to handle.

Former Town Treasurer

Before becoming commissioner of revenue in 1943, Mr. Hatchett served as treasurer for the town of Virginia Beach.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce for many years and is active in civic and church affairs.

A native of Caswell County, N. C., he attended Trinity College, now Duke University.

Other Business

Other business taken up at the council meeting included an amendment to the plumbing code that would require master and journeyman plumbers to renew their licenses within six months of expiration or take the test for license again.

Town employees called to military service will have their jobs waiting for them on return, the council voted.

Meeting of Business and Professional Women Held Monday

The October meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Princess Anne County was held at the Community House on Monday, October 9, at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. Rosa Lee Merger, president, presided and welcomed the visitors to the meeting. She announced the district meeting would be held at the Chamberlin Hotel October 21 and urged all members to attend and make reservations before October 15. Mrs. Merger also stressed the fact that next week is "National Business Woman's Week." The club will attend services at the Presbyterian Church Sunday, October 15, at 11 a.m., in a body, and the Rev. Mr. Davis' sermon will touch on this subject.

Mrs. Wallace Clark will represent the club in a radio broadcast on Mildred Alexander's program over WNAV on Tuesday, October 17, at 8:40 a.m.

Mrs. Rosalee Simpson, chairman of the welfare committee, introduced Joe White and his companions, Mrs. Hittchings, Mr. White sang "Without a Song" and "Let My Son Fill Your Heart." Mrs. Simpson then introduced the speaker, Judge Floyd Kellam, who gave a talk on the opportunities to give fine service to the community and country, and the importance of being a good American citizen.

All members were urged to do their part in making the forthcoming card party a success.

United Nations Week Proclaimed By Mayor Patton

Rotary Club to Set Up Flag Display at Coast Guard Station

The week of October 16-24 has been designated as United Nations Week, and William F. Patton, mayor of the Town of Virginia Beach, has issued the following proclamation:

WHEREAS, The United Nations Organization is the hope of the entire world for the establishment and maintenance of a lasting peace throughout the world, and WHEREAS, it is well to remember the work and effort of this world organization which is for the welfare of all,

NOW THEREFORE, I, William F. Patton, Mayor of Virginia Beach, do designate the week of October 16-24 as UNITED NATIONS WEEK, in common with other towns and cities throughout the world, and I urge all citizens through prayer and thought to give encouragement and support to this fine organization in its seemingly difficult task to secure a lasting peace.

Witness my hand and seal this 12th day of October, 1950.

WILLIAM F. PATTON, Mayor, Virginia Beach, Virginia

Rotary Club to Observe Week

As a part of the observance of United Nations Week, the Virginia Beach Rotary Club will display the flags of members of the United Nations in a colorful exhibition on the Coast Guard Station grounds at 24th Street, it has been announced by William G. Thompson, Jr., chairman of the club's United Nations Committee.

The Rotary Club will have a special United Nations program at its weekly meeting on Thursday, October 19.

Flags of the member nations of the world organization will be on display at the Coast Guard Station each day during the week from sunrise until sundown.

A speaker of international prominence is expected to address the club's membership on October 19, using as his theme the United Nations Organization.

Kellam is 'Crusade For Freedom' Co-ordinator Here

'Help Lift the Iron Curtain Everywhere' Is Slogan of Crusade

William F. Kellam, Virginia Beach insurance man, has been named co-ordinator of the "Crusade for Freedom" in Virginia Beach, it was announced yesterday by Mayor William F. Patton, chairman of the crusade in Virginia Beach.

All funds collected and signatures obtained will be directed to Mr. Kellam, the mayor said.

Freedom Scrolls, which are being sent to all civic clubs, schools, and religious organizations for signatures, are a part of the "Crusade for Freedom," which has as its slogan "Help Lift the Iron Curtain Everywhere!"

Called "A roll call of all Americans who love freedom," the crusade was inaugurated by General Lucius D. Clay, who has been named national chairman. It was his suggestion that powerful radio transmitters be built strong enough to send the message of freedom behind the iron curtain. Contributions by signers of the scrolls will go to this cause.

Mayors of towns and cities throughout the nation have been asked to participate. Scrolls are available for signatures at the offices at the Town Hall and at the Virginia Beach News office.

Names of signers will be permanently enshrined in the base of the freedom bell memorial which is to be dedicated on United Nations Day.

Father Habets to Be Honored by Ladies of Church

The Star of the Sea Woman's Circle of the Star of the Sea Catholic Church will honor Father Nicholas J. Habets, the newly installed parish priest, at a reception on Wednesday, October 18.

Father Habets was born in Heerlen, Holland, in 1892. He attended schools in his native land; graduated in 1918 from the College of Philosophy and Theology, University (Papal) of Fribourg, Switzerland. He was ordained a priest in 1919, the same year that he came to the United States and Virginia. He became a citizen of this land in 1930.

He has served in many sections of Virginia, and has been particularly active in educational work in his church.

Father Habets took up his Virginia Beach charge in July, 1950, replacing Father Philip Brennan, who had taken a parish in West Virginia.

Father Habets is an active member of the Knights of Columbus, the Red Cross, the Tuberculosis Association. During the war he served on the ration board.

Japanese Minister To Speak at Knotts Island Church

The Rev. M. J. Fujita, of Tokyo, Japan, will speak at the 3:00 p.m. service at the Knotts Island Methodist Church on Sunday, October 15. Mr. Fujita is in this country for a tour of addresses following his attendance at the World Council of Christian Education in Toronto, Canada. The son of a Methodist minister, he is now serving as the general secretary of the Council of Christian Education of the United Christian Church of Japan.

During the war he was jailed by the Japanese government because of his Christian convictions. His testimony to such a faith as well as his report on present conditions in the Far East will be quite timely.

Four Prayer Groups To Hold Meeting at Presbyterian Church

The four prayer groups of Virginia Beach will hold a union meeting at the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, October 18. The Rev. J. Walter Piasus, of the Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church, Baltimore, Md., president of Kolonia, will be the leader.

There will be an address and prayer laboratory from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. An informal luncheon will follow, to which all are asked to bring their own sandwiches. Coffee will be served.

From 1:45 to 2:30 p.m., the Kolonia World Plan, in cooperation with government, mission boards, Point Four, and many other agencies, will be discussed. All men and women interested are cordially invited to attend.

Youth Sunday to be Observed at Galilee

The Young People's Fellowship of Galilee Episcopal Church will conduct a Youth Sunday service next Sunday, October 15.

The collection Sunday will go to renovate the buildings of Christ Church Academy in Colon, Panama. Those taking part in the service Sunday include Robert Shelby, Fielding Tyler, Charles Forbes, George Barner, Maclean Simmons, Leigh Forbes, Nancy Kitchin, Brucie Tyler, Nancy Hollisworth, Myrtle Woodward, Sumner Pugh, Terence McCall, Alfred Randolph, Julia Diga, Noel Duncan, Lillian Booker, Marcia Abernathy, Waverly Dickson, and Mary Sells.

All visitors are cordially welcome to attend this service beginning at 11 a.m.

Junior Women Present Check to Community House

Mrs. James W. Allen, Jr., president of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, and Mrs. Joseph L. LaGolia, vice president and elected delegate, represented the club at the annual Sixth District meeting of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs held Tuesday at Old Point Comfort.

This week the Junior Woman's Club presented Mr. William Pantone, director of the Community House, with a $150 check to be used for teen-agers activities. The check was presented by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. W. W. Washburn, treasurer.

The welfare committee again is urging the public to continue to bring clothing to the Community House where it will be picked up by members of the committee, repaired, cleaned and distributed to needy families. Children's clothing for all ages is especially needed at this time, they said, and pointed out that if it is not convenient to leave bundles at the Community House, if a call is made to Mrs. J. W. Wolcott, Jr., at 1837-J, she will arrange to have it picked up.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the club room of the Community House. Members may bring their discarded clothing at this time.

Grade Students to Present Program at PTA Meeting

Programs by the fourth and seventh grades at Oceana School will be featured at the meeting of the Oceana Parent-Teacher's Association on Wednesday, October 18, at 8 p.m. at the school.

Mrs. J. E. Garrett will preside. The health chairman, Mrs. James Darden, will present the program, which includes a health playlet by Mrs. Dorothy Ingram's fourth graders, Mrs. Elizabeth Falconer's seventh grade boys in callisthenics, and Mrs. Beatrice Hollowell's seventh grade girls in folk dances.

The Oceana PTA has recently put first aid kits in all of the classrooms at the school. They also announce that their usual dental clinic will be conducted this year as usual.

Party at Kecoughtan Veterans Hospital Planned by VFW

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 7166, and the VFW Auxiliary are donating a case of cigarettes to the Kecoughtan Veterans Hospital and sending packages for a grab bag to be used in a game party the night before Halloween at the hospital. In addition, party favors will be provided for the 165 men who will participate in the festivities. Money for the cigarettes will be obtained from the sale of Buddy Poppies on Memorial Day.

The Auxiliary hopes soon to have on display and sale articles made in the Blind Therapy Clinic of the hospital. A display of such articles early in the year netted more than $40 for the makers.

Gas Association Convention Here

The two-day annual convention of the Virginia Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association opened yesterday here with more than 100 members in attendance. Among the board of directors present was Ray Cassett, head of the Tidewater Gas Corp., Virginia Beach. Mr. Cassett is serving as chairman of the entertainment committee for the ladies of the convention.

The group will hear Arthur Kreutzer, vice president of the national organization, speak on legislative affecting the industry.

Bay Colony Garden Club Members Hear Mrs. Woodhouse

Mrs. Goodwin S. Jordan and Mrs. Roy C. Deal, Jr., were joint hostesses at the regular meeting of the Bay Colony Garden Club held recently at the home of Mrs. Jordan.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. George T. Mullen. Club year books were distributed by Mrs. Deal. Mrs. Hugh Meredith was elected to fill the vacancy on the board of directors. Mrs. Charles Hunter was received as a new member.

The club had as its guest Mrs. Clinton Woodhouse, of the Virginia Beach Garden Club, who judged and criticized arrangements brought by the members. Ribbons for unclassified arrangements were awarded to Mrs. Arthur W. Baggett, blue; Mrs. Earle C. VanBuskirk, red; and Mrs. Gilmore Tibbcock, yellow.

The next meeting of the club will be held November 1 at the home of Mrs. William Bruce, with Mrs. John H. Thompson, III, serving as co-hostesses. Mrs. J. E. Adenbrook will be guest speaker and will have as her topic "Organic Gardening."

Lynnhaven Civic League Elects New Officers for Year

The Lynnhaven Civic League has named Henry Hunt president, of the organization for the coming year. The meeting was held last week.

The group has made plans for a games party to be held on Saturday, October 21 in the Civic Hall to benefit the building fund. Other officers elected in addition to Mr. Hunt are: Eulion White, vice president; Mrs. W. R. Payne, Jr., secretary; and Mrs. J. E. Lippincott, treasurer.

The group meets the first Monday of each month. All residents interested are asked to attend.

Legion Auxiliary Plans for New Year

General plans for the new year regarding a working funds campaign will be the general order of business at the October 9 meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 113, the first with the new president, Mrs. J. M. Carter, presiding.

The group will write to their Congressman opposing socialism medicine. Mrs. Harmon Bro, concert pianist, presented the evening's program.

BIRD NECK GARDEN CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY

The Bird Neck Garden Club will meet Tuesday, October 17, at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Julius Schlain. All members are asked to bring miniature arrangements.

LYNNHAVEN LADIES TO HOLD BAKE SALE OCTOBER 14

The women of the Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church will hold a bake sale on Saturday, October 14, at the Civic Hall in Lynnhaven. Hours for the sale are from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

JAYCEES REMIND RESIDENTS TO SAVE SCRAP PAPER FOR COLLECTION OCTOBER 29

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will again canvas Virginia Beach and north Virginia Beach in its scrap paper drive on October 29. Residents are asked to save magazines and scrap paper for the drive.

The funds will go to the Jaycee's charity fund.

Witnesses Testify County is "Notorious" for Illegal Activities; Police "Are No Help"

Only two defendants were found guilty in the trials of 19 defendants on 26 charges growing out of the June grand jury indictments in Princess Anne County Circuit Court Tuesday and Wednesday. Jack Golden, Warner Hotel, was found guilty of possession of slot machines and fined $50; Michael Brown, Cabana Club, was found guilty of two charges of possession of slot machines, with punishment fixed at a $50 fine on each, and a $1,000 fine and two months in jail on a third charge, possession of gambling paraphernalia. In both cases, a five-man jury brought in the verdict.

County "Notorious"

Testimony was highlighted by charges from the witness stand that the county is "notorious" for illegal activities, and that it would be "foolish" to report evidence to police or the Commonwealth's Attorney, to "jeopardize my life, limb, and property by going down

African Violet Club To Meet October 19

The Princess Anne African Violet Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Waverly Jordan, 52nd Street, on Thursday, October 19, at 2:30 p.m.

Miss Mildred McClanahan is co-hostess with Mrs. Jordan.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Walter E. Hoffman, of Norfolk. She has recently attended the third annual National Show of the African Society of America, which met in Philadelphia, and will report on the show to the club.

The club meets on the third Thursday of each month. They have asked all persons interested in African Violet culture to attend.

Jaycees Announce Contest Dates In High Schools

'Voice of Democracy' Contest Winners To Receive Radios

Dates have been set for the Jaycee-sponsored "Voice of Democracy" contests in the four high schools of the county, the club was told at its regular business meeting Tuesday at the Paramount Restaurant. Judges have not yet been announced, but chairman for Judges, R. G. Brydges, said that an announcement will be forthcoming at an early date.

The contest will be held at Creeds on November 2; Kempsville, November 10; Princess Anne County Training School, November 8; and Oceana (date to be announced).

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is working through the schools of Princess Anne County to put on the annual contest. This will be the second year that it has been conducted locally; the fourth year that the national Jaycees have sponsored it.

Radios go to the winners in the four high schools, and an engraved cup will go to the winner for the entire county in addition to his school prize.

Jaycee officers in charge of the contest, in addition to Mr. Brydges, are: Roy Deal, chairman; Fred Bonney, chairman for recordings; Louis Guy, chairman for prizes; and W. E. MacDonald, chairman for publicity.

In addition to discussion of the contest, the meeting featured a collection picture of the national Jaycee convention held in Chicago last June. Final plans were made for a party the club is giving for members and their wives.

and making a fool of myself when this court can't back you up." The charges were made by Harry H. Rumble, II, testifying in the case against Brown, operator of the Cabana Club on 17th Street.

Rumble's statement in answer to a question from Defense Attorney Richard Kellam's question as to why he had not reported illegal activities at the Cabana Club to the Commonwealth's Attorney was as follows:

Rumble replied: "That is a very interesting question. I am glad you asked me. To report matters in this county to any of the police officials is nil. There have been matters brought to this court many times that have been thrown out completely. I think it (the county) is notorious for its activities. It is foolish for me to jeopardize my life, limb and property by going down and making a fool of myself when this court can't back you up. Every man, woman and child knows of the situation in this county. It is foolish for one individual to go down there and buck it. The only reason I went to the grand jury was because I was called."

Kellam: "Do you say to the jury and court that it would have been a waste of time to have reported the matter to the Commonwealth's Attorney, that he would have done nothing?"

Rumble: "To have reported it to the police department would have been a waste of time." Kellam: "I asked you why you didn't report it to the Commonwealth's Attorney."

Rumble: "There's no need for me to go to the Commonwealth's Attorney. I feel that his hands are tied just as well as the police department."

The Outcome

Stanley Smith, Jr., Albemarle Hall, motion to strike the evidence sustaining.

C. V. Ellison, purported to be the operator of The Ranch, motion to strike the evidence sustained.

By agreement of the prosecution and the defense, defendants were tried in groups. Next came the cases of F. C. Booker, purported to be the operator of the Courtney Terrace Hotel; C. L. Baker, purported to be the operator of the Atlantic Club; and R. H. Kernan, purported to be the operator of the Latin Quarter.

No evidence was presented that linked Kernan and Baker with the establishments in question, so a motion to strike the evidence was sustained. The jury found Booker not guilty of possession of slot machines.

In some of the subsequent cases, the witnesses were unable to testify that slot machines paid off.

In the case of Joseph Salsbery and Henry Fiek, allegedly operators of the Checkerboard Club, evidence was stricken against Fiek since he was not shown to be connected with the club. Salsbery was acquitted by the jury after maintaining a common nuisance, two slot machines, illegal sale of whiskey, and gambling paraphernalia.

The case against the American Legion Club was ruled out by Judge Walter.

Other defendants dismissed or found not guilty were:

Henry Barclay, Gay Manor Hotel; Horace Bluford (deceased); E. L. Lachman, Ocean Park; Adie Sykes, Greenwood Hotel; Sidney Banks and R. R. Snyman, Cavalier Hotel; S. S. McCoy, Parol Service Station; Earl Avett and Jimmy Fryder, News Centre and Mike S. Elger, Outh Club.

Cases against Pete Ramsey, alleged operator of the Two O'clock Club, and Harry Hunt, alleged operator of Harry's Hot Spot were continued generally.

THE VIRGINIA BEACH NEWS ON TRIAL

The Virginia Beach News fared well in its trial this week before the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County. Contentions we have harped on constantly in our editorial columns were brought forcibly before the public once more.

You say you did not know that the Virginia Beach News was on trial?

Well, neither did we until it became apparent during the trials of 18 of the defendants in the cases growing out of indictments made by the special grand jury called June 27 to investigate charges of widespread gambling and illegal sales of whiskey.

We learned that we have been on a "crusade to clean up Virginia Beach or ruin it." We were accused of spite work against the true defendants because we were refused their support in a recent election. It was intimated that we had published accusations that could not be backed up with fact. It was further intimated that we were remiss in not turning evidence over to the proper authorities—the chiefs of police or the commonwealth's attorney.

In many cases, either the publisher or the editor of the News was the sole witness.

It looked as if the Commonwealth, rather than carrying out the orders of the Judge of the Circuit Court or of the grand jury, was proceeding on the theory that we must get up on the stand and either put up or shut up. The burden of proof fell, not upon the Commonwealth, but upon the editors of the Virginia Beach News and others who had been called to testify at the time of the grand jury.

It was interesting to note that the Commonwealth called but two witnesses other than those who had testified before the grand jury. One was R. A. Jones, summoned to the stand from the court room without previous notice that he was to be asked to establish who was the operator of the Atlantic Court at the time of the indictment. The other was a local policeman who might just as well have been summoned by the defense.

It is doubly interesting in the case of Mr. Jones that he was asked to establish the operator of the Atlantic Court at that particular time because Mr. Ackles, the Commonwealth's representative, himself was, at the time of the indictment, one of the principal officers of the corporation which owns and leases the Atlantic Court, and while he himself could not be called to the stand, we believe that it would be regular if he should call one of his employees or one of the other officers of the corporation to testify. The Commonwealth, however, was unable to establish that Mr. Baker was that proprietor.

Important are the remarks of Judge Jeff F. Walker, who sat on the bench in the cases this week: The burden of proof is not borne that burden.

Oddity: When the indictments were handed to the Commonwealth's Attorney it was either he or the grand jury who named the persons who were to be defendants, not the witnesses before the grand jury, if the reports we have gleaned from those gentlemen and lady are to be credited.

Of our own knowledge we know that we did not give the grand jury the names of the proprietors of the places we mentioned. Hence, we believe that it behooved the Commonwealth to establish the vital fact of proprietorship, for it was that, and that alone, which was responsible for the dismissal of many of the defendants.

The repeated effort of the defense attorney (there was but one for all cases, and such popularity must be assuredly deserved) to press witnesses as to why they had not turned over to police or the Commonwealth evidence they had received with mixed emotions, but was answered pretty consistently "It would have done no good."

The News wants to point out that such information WAS brought to the attention of the police and the Commonwealth's Attorney, both verbally and through these columns. In our paper, we named places, we offered the bootlegger's telephone number, we mentioned buying drinks in many clubs and playing the slots in other spots. Verbally, a member of our staff discussed the situation with the officials.

Harry Rumble's reply to the defense attorney's question is well worth repeating again: "I feel that his (The Commonwealth's Attorney) hands are tied just as the police department's."

We reiterate:

It is not the duty of the individual to bring in the proof to convict. The individual reports; the police and the Commonwealth, which are a team to protect the rights of the private citizen and uphold the laws of his State and community, must bring in the proof to convict.

Letters to Editor

October 12, 1950

The Editor
Virginia Beach News
Virginia Beach, Virginia
Dear Editor:

The trials resulting from indictments drawn by the June Princess Anne County Grand Jury have finally reached themselves to a nauseous halt. This community has had a narrow squeak. It's last shred of self-respect was saved only by the courage of an alien but able judge and the boldness of the people's witnesses.

From the Grand Jury hearings through the trials each step has been revolting to those who have the slightest conception of the necessity for the sanctity of the courts in our form of government.

Your commonwealth's or prosecuting attorney might better have been called the "attorney for the defense" and the counsel for the defense, the brother of the Judge who told the Grand Jury, after he received its report: "The illegal slot machines, known as the one-armed bandit, must be banished, and I call on the police department to see that the law is strictly enforced."

"Every witness for the Commonwealth had his hands metaphorically tied behind him because his only source of protection on the stand (excluding the Judge) was the State's attorney, who failed him. To testify under conditions which transform one from a respected citizen endeavoring properly to do an unpleasant but highly important civic duty to an unaided cross between the entire prosecution and the accused is a humiliating experience. Personally, my humiliation was not entirely without its desserts.

An edifying sight at the trial was three defense witnesses from the local constabulary ably led by a well known business man in the rendition of the entertaining but insidious ballad "For Amusement Only"—never has there been such harmony since the Gay Nineties Quartet!

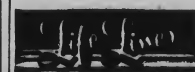

In the conviction of the Cabana Club's Michael Brown, community decency established a small beachhead. It is imperative, if it is to be held and exploited; that every self-respecting citizen in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County search his soul, tighten his belt and attack.

The News carried a feature story and picture of Aunt Mary Jane Menden, 117-year-old colored woman of Creeds, believed to be the oldest inhabitant of the county. Aunt Mary said that she was good for another 25 years. She was the property of John West during slavery times and lived on his farm until his death. Aunt Mary declared during the interview with the News man that she "still hates a Damn Yankee worse'n pizen."

Little Erosion on Covered Land, Says PMA Chairman

Do rainstorms work for you or against you?

R. W. Lane, chairman of the Princess Anne County PMA Committee, says that they work for the farmer who prepares his land right and against the farmer who leaves land unprotected.

He says rain can damage land in several ways. It can cut gullies and wash off rich topsoil when land is left bare. This run-off carries away organic matter until only the sterile subsoil remains.

Recent tests conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show how a good sod can check erosion. In a 15-minute period, an acre of land with a good grass cover took up 2.36 inches of water and moved only about a half ton of soil by splashing. The same test showed that an unprotected acre in the same time took up only 1 inch of water and 70 tons of soil was moved by splash erosion.

"These are things for farmers to think about these days as harvested crops are coming off the land," Mr. Lane says. "Getting land protected by a good plant growth of cover crop or pasture will pay dividends in dollars. The Agricultural Conservation Program seeks to help farmers in this objective."

Better Farming Methods Build Food Reserves

The favorable food situation in the nation today gives striking proof that conservation along with acreage allotments and marketing quotas mean balanced abundance. That's the opinion of the Princess Anne County committee chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration after studying a current report released by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The report showed that the country's position as regards food supplies has become increasingly strong during the past 15 years under the Agricultural Conservation Program. Food supplies are expected to continue at about the same level as in the past two years. Even if the Korean situation requires stepped-up military procurement, civilian supplies will not be noticeably affected, the bureau report predicts.

Food production this year is expected to exceed the prewar 1935-39 average by 38 per cent, and exceed that of 1941 by 20 per cent. Stocks of most storable foods are fairly substantial. Furthermore, exports are continuing to decline. On the basis of these supply estimates, civilian food consumption per person this year may be 11 per cent higher than in the 1935-39 period, and also exceed the 1941 consumption which was a record up to then.

Mr. Lane, county PMA chairman, gives a lot of credit for this favorable food situation to co-operating farmers, those who have used the Agricultural Conservation Program to control soil erosion and to build up the productivity of the nation's farms. He says, "The conservation practices which these farmers have carried out, the production adjustments resulting from allotments and quotas have given the nation reserves in food and in the soil. With the Korean situation unsettled and population ever increasing, it's no time to let up on conservation."

In January of 1911, the take-off from the specially constructed platform on the deck of the battleship, USS Pennsylvania, marked the first ship-to-shore flight.

With today's traffic and parking problems in Virginia Beach, it's hard enough to do your shopping without having to add bill-paying to your chores.

That's where a "Commerce" checking account comes in mighty handy. With it you can enjoy the convenience and safety of paying bills by mail... with just a few strokes of the pen... right from your own home or office.

Then you don't run the risk of losing cash—and your cancelled checks are legal receipts for every expenditure.

In hot weather, cold weather, all around the clock, a "Commerce" checking account will save you time, trouble and money, too—for they're surprisingly inexpensive. So why not open your account soon?

Home Demonstration Club Achievement Program October 18

The first annual Achievement Day Program of the Princess Anne Home Demonstration Clubs will be held Wednesday, October 18, at Creeds High School, beginning at 10:30 a.m. A full program has been arranged with the Rev. A. Purnell Bailey, pastor of Oak Grove Methodist Church, speaking on the subject "Use Our Insignificance"; Mrs. F. I. Paxson, of the Lynnhaven Club, will give the devotional; and Mrs. W. H.

Smith, of the Nimmo Club, the address of welcome. Visitors will be introduced by Mrs. Charles F. Thompson, and Mrs. E. W. Calk will introduce the guest speaker.

Miss Ernestine Grafton, head of the Extension Division, Virginia State Library, will also be on the program. During the afternoon she will award library certificates to members having read five books on the accepted reading list, and Mrs. Frances Brickhouse, executive secretary of the Tuberculosis Association, will award X-ray certificates to clubs having had 100 per cent X-rays.

Mrs. C. F. Thompson, president of the Princess Anne County Home Demonstration Club Committee, will preside. The entire organization now has approximately 350 members enrolled in the fifteen home demonstration clubs distributed over the county. Lunch will be the "cover dish type" of meal, prepared by home demonstration club members and served in the gymnasium by the Creeds home economics students, supervised by Miss Harriet Steele, Creeds home economics teacher.

Exhibits of work accomplished in the clubs will be on display in the gymnasium. The public is invited to attend this first annual Achievement Program.

Bayside School 4-H Club News
by Linda Harrell

The Bayside School 4-H Club held its October meeting on Wednesday, October 4. Kay Greene had charge of the program, and Nancy Goode had charge of the Bible reading. Betty Oliver gave an interesting report about 4-H Camp Farrar, and Sara Sims gave a report of the 4-H Club taking part in the State Fair at Richmond.

Miss Lou' Anne Mears is now the club's sponsor since Mrs. Margaret Fischer has retired. We were sorry that Mr. Oulis, our county agent, could not be with us, but were very glad to have Miss Jane Craig, home demonstration agent, and Mr. Jack W. Brothers, assistant county agent, with us.

During the first half of 1950 approximately 6,000 school children were transported to and from school each day at public expense, according to the NEA.

Homemakers' Hints

If you don't have a good place to store potatoes, you'll be interested in this tip from Mrs. Mary Thompson, Extension nutritionist at V. P. I.

She says to cook and freeze them.

French fries, hash brown Irish potatoes are good frozen—as are baked candied, and puree of sweet potatoes.

When preparing French fries and hash brown potatoes, be careful not to get them too brown, as they will brown some when they are heated.

Prepare and cook potatoes as you would for immediate eating. Cool quickly. Pack in vapor-moisture proof containers and freeze at once. The potatoes you freeze in early fall will be much higher in Vitamin C than those you store through the winter.

To serve, heat in a moderate oven, or prepare as usual.

Safety at home becomes more of a reality when some common household hazards are treated with luminescent paint. Paint a band on each basement step and also on the handrail to indicate the edge of the stairway. You can

Galilee Episcopal Church Scene of Powell-Grimes Wedding Saturday

The Galilee Episcopal Church was the setting Saturday night at 8 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Margaret Leard Grimes, the daughter of Mrs. Albert Lawrence Grimes and the late Mr. Grimes, to George Elliott Powell, Jr., son of Mrs. Hugh Travis Sykes, of George Elliott Powell, all of Virginia Beach. The Rev. Edmund Berkeley, rector of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was arranged with magnolia leaves, white gladioli and white asters, and Mrs. George L. Aldridge played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Albert Lawrence Grimes, Jr. She wore a wedding gown of cream white satin, fashioned with a wide band of lace forming a scoop neckline, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and snug bodice buttoned up the back with tiny self covered buttons. The full skirt with double bands of shirring at the hipline, formed a sweeping train. Her full-length veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of pearl orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids showered with stephanotis.

Mrs. Ellis Ralph Taylor, of Birmingham, Ala., was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a gown of gold satin, styled with off-the-shoulder neckline, snug bodice with a bertha, and the full gored skirt topped by a bustle in back. She wore matching mits and carried a bouquet of lavender asters and Edith Wilkie roses. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Joseph Whitmel Cotten, Jr., Miss Jane Walker Robinson, of Virginia Beach; Mrs. George Bernard Smith, of Lexington, and Miss Vivien Lyle, of Richmond and Virginia Beach. They wore dresses of gold satin made like that of the matron of honor, matching mits and carried bouquets of purple asters and yellow roses. All of the attendants wore matching flowers in their hair.

The bridegroom had his father as best man. The groomsmen were David Stormont, Jr., Henry Clay Perry, Jr., Raymond Long, Jr., Fred McIntyre, William Haycox, and Joseph W. Cotten, Jr.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of aqua lace and chiffon and an orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of pink brown satin, and an orchid corsage.

MRS. THIMBLAKE BOWERS DANCES-ELUET AT LOVELY LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Julian B. Timberlake, Jr., entertained Wednesday at her home on 70th Street at a luncheon in honor of Miss Mary Minor Jordan, whose marriage to William Allison Thomas will take place tomorrow evening in Galilee Episcopal Church. Miss Anne Everett Darden, whose marriage to Robert Lee Hunter, Jr., will take place in November in Recife, Brazil, and Miss Lucy Gale Turnbull, whose marriage to James M. Gill, of Wichita, Kansas, will take place next month. Those invited, in addition to the guests of honor, were Mrs. James M. Jordan, Mrs. Vincent John Thomas, Mrs. Gordon Jordan, Mrs. Frank M. Kelly, Mrs. Owen Robinson, Mrs. J. J. and Misses Patricia Twoby, Betty Hitch, Anna Black, Nancy Bonney, Betsy Kyle, Amine Forsberg, Frances Martin, Ann Kitchin and Mary Talbot.

Mrs. William Moore has returned to her home on 80th Street after visiting relatives in Lynchburg, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Cooke, of Richmond, will spend this week-end at the Preston Hix home in Bay Colony and attend the marriage of Miss Mary Minor Jordan and William Allison Thomas tomorrow evening in Galilee Episcopal Church.

There was a reception at the Trafalton Chalfonte Hotel, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. Upon their return they will reside at Virginia Beach. The bride wore for traveling a wool worsted suit of bronze green iridescent checks, matching hat, mink fur, green lizard accessories and an orchid corsage.

(HADACOL gives such wonderful results because it actually relieves the real cause of stomach distress [gas pains, heartburn, indigestion after eating] due to such deficiencies. And continued use of this great HADACOL helps prevent such distress from returning.)

Mrs. Mabel Kitchin, 1659 Amsterdam, Cincinnati, Ohio, "Before I started taking HADACOL I had severe pains of neuritis in my shoulders, my back and arms. I could hardly move without having those terrible pains. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the second bottle the pains and aches were about gone. I'm now starting my fourth bottle and am on top of the world. I eat well and, best of all, the aches and pains are completely gone." (Mrs. Kitchin is a very smart woman because she relieves the real cause of her neuritis pains due to such deficiencies. HADACOL often brings a wonderful improvement within a few days' time.)

Mrs. J. Schenckel, 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa, writes: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is 15 years old and for some time lacked pep, had a poor appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results. . . she has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table and doesn't seem tired like she used to. Incidentally, she likes to take HADACOL, too." (HADACOL is a great "builder-upper" for diet, nerves, pony kids whose systems lack precious Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. A big improvement in their well-being is often noticed within a few days' time after taking the great new HADACOL.)

Mr. Henry Angel, RD No. 1, Springfield, Ohio, "I used to suffer great pain from neuritis aches in all parts of my body, especially in my legs, arms and shoulders. I tried got any real relief until I tried HADACOL. After taking several bottles, my pain is all gone. And I'm working every day." (Now there's a smart man! QUIET

...as an Electric water heater!

IT'S ABSOLUTELY QUIET. You don't even hear it purr—and so efficient you'll forget it's in the house—an automatic Electric Water Heater does its job while you sleep... storing up plenty of really HOT water for ALL your needs, around the clock!

Yes, Hot-Water-By-Wire is quiet... safe... and thrifty. Nothing to turn on or off, no soot, no fumes, no flame. So thoroughly insulated that its exterior is always cool to the touch, needs no expensive extra wiring, and separately metered so that water is heated for only 1c per kilowatt hour!

For quiet service and efficiency—of course it's ELECTRIC!

OCEANA HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES ORGANIZED

At a recent faculty meeting at Oceana High School a schedule was worked out for time of meetings and sponsorship of the various extra-curricular activities of the school. The value of each organization was discussed and the following clubs were selected as assets to the school and students individually:

The Beta Club: for scholastic recognition; The Allied Youth: an organization stressing wholesome recreation without the use of alcoholic beverages; The Literary Club: for those interested in participating in literary formal events; The Dramatic Club: for students interested in dramatics (staging, props, costumes and all phases of play production); Student Government: an organization to foster democratic ideas, customs and policies in the school both in the selection of the council members and the actions taken by the council members; The 4-H Club: an organization both of the community and the school. This club has as its standards four dedications: Heart to greater loyalty, Head to clearer thinking, Hands to greater service, and Health to better living.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheer Leaders: This group is necessary for encouraging and arousing school spirit among the student body. In doing this a certain unity is created that is a necessity for a really good high school.

Still under discussion by both the faculty and the students is the advisability of a school newspaper and a school annual. The expense of these two activities, plus the eagerness of the students for them will be the determining factor as to whether or not these organizations will be in the school program this year.

The meeting for these various activities was discussed at length. Taking into consideration both the pros and cons of every suggestion the time was set for Monday mornings before the first bell. Two clubs will meet each Monday while the rest of the school continues its classwork, thus disturbing the school program very little.

The Dramatic Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. McCloud and Miss Loving, met Monday morning and made temporary plans for the year. Try-outs for new members were discussed and will be held soon. The officers of the club are: Ora Dail Hardy, president; Anita Aldridge, secretary, and Fatsy Abernathy, treasurer.

Also meeting Monday morning were the members of the Literary Club. Miss Lyon and Mrs. Standish, co-sponsors, discussed with the members plans for the year. An election system was set up by the club members and the officers will be elected soon. The most immediate plan made was to go, as a group, to see "Holiday on Ice" in Norfolk. Representatives from the club made a fine showing last year, both locally and in the state.

PORTLOCK DOWNS OCEANA 28-6

Portlock won for the first time in 16 years over Oceana at the Cavalier Stadium last Friday night. The score was 28 to 6. Last Year Oceana won 12 to 6.

Portlock, with a strong "T" offensive attack, scored in every period. Knapp, quarterback, scored two touchdowns, while Edwards and Capps scored one each for Portlock. A pass from Johnson to Byrd late in the fourth quarter was the only Oceana score.

Oceana fumbled twice early in the first quarter and Portlock took advantage of the chances. The first fumble, however, didn't net them a score because Frank Allen, Oceana end, intercepted a Portlock pass on his own 20 and returned it to the 35. Another fumble almost immediately gave Portlock a chance to score, which they did. In a series of seven plays and three first downs Portlock scored on a quarterback sneak by Knapp, who went over from the one yard line. Capps went through the middle for the extra point. At the end of the first quarter Portlock led 7 to 0.

The second quarter got underway with Portlock getting a fast start. Before three minutes had passed, Knapp again scored, going around right end from the one yard stripe. Knapp passed to Edgerton for the extra point.

Portlock, still going strong, threatened late in the second period, but a fumble spoiled their chance. Oceana took over on their 20, but their passing combination failed to click. Forced to kick, Bourdon kicked out on the 49 and Portlock failed to score before the half-time. Score 14 to 0.

Oceana came back strong in the third quarter but failed to score. Portlock, however, scored again with Kenny Capps carrying the ball over from the 30. Edwards ran around right end for the extra point. 21-0.

Portlock again scored early in the fourth when Edwards took the ball from Haywood and went over from the three.

Oceana, striving not to be shut out, advanced to the Portlock 30. Johnson then connected with fullback Royce Byrd for a six-pointer. The pass for the extra point failed and the game ended with Portlock out front 28 to 6.

THERE'S a change of the year for your Buick, too, stalwart as it is! Hot summer driving has taken its toll—in played-out lubricants, spark timing that may have slipped off a notch or two over the many miles, a carburetor that would probably give you better mileage and snap if it were properly adjusted now for fall driving.

Point is—your Buick will feel a lot friskier in the trying days to come if you let your Buick dealer get those summer kinks out of its system now! Just drive in—say you want (1) a fall tune-up and (2) a regular Lubricare—and see how much rewarded you are, for a small fee!

Do it this week, will you? Before the rush, you can be served more promptly.

Who Runs America?

the Congress?

the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant Hospital Association

American Legion
National Association of Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods Association
American Bar Association

Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the proud security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

You and Your Neighbor Run America!

Teen Age Club News

Septem Club Elects Officers

Well, Fall is here again, and with it comes football, school and the beginning of activities at the Community House. We were all so glad to see the Community House open again at night.

The Septem Club started its year off with a bang by electing officers for the coming year. They are as follows: Pat Conway, president; Corinne Falconer, vice president; Catherine Meeks, secretary; and Jane Williams, treasurer. Joan Curles was given a big job this year. She will be in charge of the articles to go in the Teen-Age column and holds the office of historian.

The Septem Club is getting busy on some ideas for the coming year. We want to start by inviting all the teen-agers on the Beach to come to the Community House and join the fun. Membership cards are now on sale at the club.

Three new members have joined the Septem Club. They are Patzy Rice, Bunny Rice and Becky MacCubbins.

We are looking forward to a wonderful year, even though we have lost so many of our boys.

Dance Big Success

All the Teen-Agers who were at our dance Saturday night, October 7 (and they numbered well over a hundred) want me to express our thanks to Harris Music Company for the kind offer of lending a juke box free for this dance. They promise to take care of the box and are hoping it can stay here for future dances. Many thanks, Harris Music Company.

Our club started off this season with a bang. Attendance is running high. Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week are classes in weight lifting and general exercises. This class is conducted by Mr. Jackson, who has had four years of such training at Miami College. Mr. Krause takes the same class through body building and self defense. These classes start at 7:30 and end at 9:00 p.m.

Respectfully,

—Wm. H. Fantone, Director

With the Gang

Surprise! Surprise! It looks like the Virginia Beach boys are finally getting on the ball by dancing. Who is Catherine's new crush? What's this we hear about Joan Simmons and Bobby Allen. Could it be love.

We sure do hate to have Connie Cooke leave us.

Who was the big date Becky was with last Saturday night. Who is Eleanor's new crush? Could it be a junior boy? What happened with Skitay at the last dance?

Seems like Jane Williams is getting interested in a boy from Chesterfield Heights.

Mae, what sudden interest do you have at the Community House?

We sure do miss all the boys who have gone into the armed services!

Looks like all of the girls are looking forward to the house parties this week-end.

We miss Bobby Rice and all of the rest of the boys.

—The Gossipers.

Teen-Age Dance

Saturday night the Septem Club held their first dance of the season at the Community House. The admission and music were free. We had a big crowd and we hope that we continue to have large crowds at the other dances we are planning to have.

We were glad to see so many new students at the dance and we hope they continue to come. We are planning to have more dances this year, so let everyone plan to come and make the dance a big success.

Creeds Defeats Kempville 39-0

The Creeds High School football team defeated the Kempville "B" team 39 to 0 in a game played at Kempville Thursday night, October 5.

The Creeds Indians, led by the brilliant running of Otto Halstead, scored an easy victory over a hard fighting Kempville team. Halstead scored four touchdowns while having a 50-yard touchdown run called back.

A Journal Devoted to the Interests of Princess Anne County and the State of Virginia

Vol. 25 — No. 49

VIRGINIA BEACH, VIRGINIA — FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1950

SINGLE COPY 5c — $2.00 PER YEAR

$13,000 Goal Set by Community Chest for Princess Anne County; Drive October 23-November 6

R. F. Trant, Jr., Is General Chairman For County Drive

A $13,000 goal has been set for the 1950 Community Chest in Princess Anne County, with the Virginia Beach quota set at $6,500, according to an announcement by R. F. Trant, Jr., general chairman of the drive. The drive will run from October 23 to November 6.

Heading up the Virginia Beach division is Admiral James M. Shoemaker.

The official drive will get off to a start with a dinner tonight at the Paramount Restaurant. Officers, directors, division chiefs and workers will be in attendance at the dinner. Working material will be distributed, plans outlined, and the drive and its purposes explained.

The Junior Woman's Club will take over the canvassing of the residential section of Virginia Beach and its environs. Co-chairmen in charge will be Mrs. Robert G. Barr, Jr., and Mrs. Peter Holland, III.

Community Chest officials are anxious to conclude the drive this year on the closing date. In the past, they explained, the drive has always been extended beyond the announced dates.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority to Hold State Meet Here

Tidewater Area Clubs To Be Hostesses for Two-Day Conclave

The 10th annual convention of the State Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will be held this week-end at the Cavalier Hotel when 300 Virginia girls convene Saturday and Sunday for an excitement-packed two-day program.

Registration Saturday morning will be followed by a scenic picnic at the beach club and the official opening in the ball room at 2:30 p.m. The group will be welcomed by Mrs. Kermit Land, president of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, and Mrs. Alice Brewer White, sponsor of the Norfolk chapter.

The program continues with a forum conducted by Miss Kitty Wilson of the Norfolk Beta Alpha chapter, in which the following state officers will participate: Miss Myrtle Patterson, of Lynchburg, who is president of the Virginia State group; Mrs. C. Hudson Carper, general chairman of the convention, from the Alpha Rho chapter. Nomination of officers will follow.

A fall fashion show (clothes and furs from Center Shops and Green's; hats by Florence Wilson) by the pool-side will be directed by Mrs. Luther B. Marshall, Jr., and at 7 p.m. a banquet will be held at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club, with Mrs. Ellen Lane Wadsworth, toast mistress. She is from Norfolk Alpha Rho chapter.

Guests will include the Rev. Francis J. Blakely, who will read the invocation; Walter W. Ross, of Kansas City, who will speak briefly; Mr. Ross is founder of the sorority; Judge Floyd E. Kelam will introduce the Hon. Porter Hardy, Jr., who will speak on his recent trip to Europe. Representative Hardy's address will be recorded and rebroadcast over WTAR at noon Sunday.

The evening's festivities will be rounded out with a Variety Revue, with Dorothy Lue, of Norfolk, as mistress of ceremonies, and featuring the Rev. Ernest Emurian, the Singing Parson from Portsmouth. Also featured in the revue will be a novelty act by Shirley Buggs and Clithfield Turner of Virginia Beach's Alpha Chi chapter. Games and dancing will conclude the evening's entertainment.

After an early morning swim in the Cavalier pool, the girls will breakfast at Cape Henry, where they will hear Mrs. Frans Naylor, founder of the Order of Cape Henry 1607, speak. Mrs. Barbara Kelly, director, Miss Kitty Malbon, sponsor, and Shirley Buggs, president of the Virginia Beach chapter, will usher at breakfast. The convention will conclude on Sunday with a business meeting and election of officers.

The five hostess chapters are from Virginia Beach, Portsmouth and Norfolk.

Miss Duty Called for Federal Jury Duty

Miss Pearl Duty, of Oceana, has had an unusual honor bestowed upon her. She is one of the women chosen to serve on the Federal Jury which convenes on November 2 in Norfolk. It is the first time in the history of the State that women have been called to jury duty.

Miss Duty is executive secretary of the Princess Anne County chapter of the American Red Cross.

TOWN MANAGER—Virginia Beach's new town manager, W. Russell Hatchett, took office on Monday of this week. Mr. Hatchett is well known in Virginia Beach, having at one time served as treasurer of the town prior to his election as commissioner of revenue for Princess Anne County. His resignation from the county post set in motion a chain reaction of promotions and new appointments. Taking his place as commissioner of revenue was Ivan D. Mapp, who has served as chief of the county's police department. Mr. Mapp's post as chief of police was filled by the appointment of J. E. Moore, sergeant in the county police setup. Both Mr. Mapp and Chief Moore took over their present duties on Monday. —Photo by Boice

New Manager Joins Fight Against Unwanted 'Joints'

In an action-packed session last night, the Virginia Beach Town Council met with their new town manager, W. Russell Hatchett, and moved to:

1. Ask the town's attorney, Roy Smith, to set in motion the necessary legal steps to make Virginia Beach a city of the second class as soon as official population figures are available from the Census Bureau.

2. Agreed to pay to the Norfolk Southern Railway the sum of $125,000 for the railway right-of-way property and the square block now occupied by the town playground and athletic field. The purchase will be contingent upon consultations by the Finance Committee on ways and means of financing the project, although council seemed agreed that a bond issue might be the answer.

3. Heard Fred A. Haycox, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's Convention Hall Committee, explain plans for a $750,000 convention hall, described as the culmination of many years planning, which would occupy the playground site. Mr. Haycox explained that the hall would accommodate 3,000 to 3,500 persons, and would be financed by interested citizens and concerns. He explained that there have been many offers of financial assistance, including one offer of $25,000 and a second of $10,000. Hotels, businesses, airlines, railroads and others benefited by the hall would be expected to contribute on a continuing basis over a period of years to make the hall possible at an early date.

4. Heard Mr. Hatchett assure residents of South Virginia Beach that every effort is being made to forestall plans of the Norfolk Southern to build a freight yard and terminal in the southern part of the town but a few blocks from Atlantic Avenue.

5. Heard Mr. Hatchett condemn "some of the places at Virginia Beach which, to put it mildly, are objectionable," and declare that the police chief has promised his best effort to put them down. Mr. Hatchett said that he hoped to make some arrangements by which the commission in Richmond which issues charters to such clubs would notify the town attorney so that they "might be killed at the switch, so to speak." Mr. Hatchett continued that Virginia Beach is not like other places, and "we don't propose to put on a crusade."

6. Heard a report from Mr. Hatchett that he has been assured by the Honorable Porter Hardy that he held out great hopes that Virginia Beach will be assisted in combating the disaster of erosion.

7. Heard Mr. Hatchett declare that he will take up with the Board of Supervisors the possibility of putting in a water supply system to serve North Virginia Beach. He explained that the pipe lines now serving that section are antiquated, and that for the past two summers when use is high and pressure low, the town had to tap into the Army's lines, a practice which has to be discontinued. (The town bought 12-inch pipe for the proposed line some months ago at an approximate cost of $21,000.)

8. Changed the meeting time for council meetings from Tuesday afternoons until the third Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in order that the town's citizens might attend more easily.

Halloween Party At Playground Set For October 31

The annual Halloween Party will be given for the kids—young and old—on the Playground on Tuesday night, October 31. It is the big, scary party that the business men, assisted by the volunteer firemen, put on every year to judge the costumes for all age groups, award prizes to the winners, and generally have fun.

Prizes are being contributed by the various business men in the town, with awards going to winners in all age groups from the little tots up to the teen-agers and the 20-year-olds.

Hours for the party, and special information will be announced at a later date.

Clothes for Korean Relief Being Asked By Church Group

Clothes of all kinds are wanted by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Galilee Church for Korean relief. The group is collecting clothing to be sent to the needy of the war-torn area as soon as possible.

Garments should be in fair condition. Wanted particularly are children's clothes, dresses, coats, underwear. Shoes are especially needed, the ladies declared, as is bedding—blankets and sheets.

Mrs. Henry V. Boykin, on Crystal Lake, 53rd Street extended, will receive what you have to offer to the cause.

Hungarian Leader To Appear Here As Jaycee Speaker

Dr. Jekely to be Guest At Dinner Meeting Tuesday Night

Dr. Laszlo J. Jekely, outstanding Hungarian leader, will speak before the regular dinner meeting of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Junior Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday at the Paramount Restaurant.

Dr. Jekely appears for the Crusade for Freedom under the auspices of the National Committee for a Free Europe, an organization dedicated to the halt of Communism and the salvation of freedom.

Dr. Jekely was born in Budapest in 1906. When World War II broke out, with its insidious Nazi infiltration, Dr. Jekely formed a resistance organization to hearten the tyrannized Hungarians. All during the stifling destruction of the Nazi occupation this resistance group played an increasingly active role. It became a wide-spread liaison agency for all resistance groups.

Because the Hungarians fell in their brave battle against the Nazi juggernaut, Dr. Jekely was determined to fight against the relentless Nazi tyranny in an heroic attempt to preserve the former democratic freedom of his suffering countrymen.

It was not long before he was appointed secretary of the Hungarian office of the Swedish Red Cross. His unceasing efforts against all forms of Fascism and Communism became known all over Hungary. This particular Red Cross organization achieved national-wide scope and carried on many varied activities along all resistance fronts. It became the beacon of hope on a very black shore; its most important and humane function was the rescue of tens of thousands of Nazi victims from certain torturous death.

For his valiant and tireless efforts on behalf of his democratic countrymen, Dr. Jekely was decorated with the highest resistance order, the Silver Star of the Hungarian Freedom Order. He was also chosen to be co-chairman of the Hungarian Republican Party which had joined with the Independent Smallholders' Party. This group represented the interests of both the farmers and the city dwellers who were intent to maintain a democratic government. This fusion aimed at uniting all the anti-Communist forces.

In 1945, Dr. Jekely, who had been a lawyer by profession, was appointed judge to the highest court of Hungary. Subsequently, during the first unfettered and free elections held in that country, he was elected to the municipal council of the capital and to the Parliament of Hungary.

In February 1946, he was appointed Chief of the Cabinet of the President of the Republic. By the middle of 1947 he had secured a foreign appointment, so that he could better attack the Communist menace from outside Hungary. He was made Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Netherlands and Belgium. After the Communist coup d'etat of June 1947, he came to the United States.

Hotel Men Plan Big Barbecue Dinner

Invitations have been issued by the Virginia Beach Hotel and Cottage Association to its membership to a barbecue dinner at 6 p.m. on Thursday, October 26, at the Cavalier Country Club. According to the invitations, refreshments and "all the trimmings" will be had.

Charles W. Gardner, president, announced that every hotel and cottage owner and operator is invited to attend whether he is a member or not, in order to get all together for a "good old social get-together."

National Farm Bureau Official Speaks At Camp

John C. Lynn Urges International Good Will, Understanding

"Leadership on a world basis requires international understanding and good will," John C. Lynn, acting director of American Farm Bureau Federation's Department of International Affairs, told more than 100 agricultural leaders at the recent Virginia Leadership Training Camp, Virginia Beach.

"We have made little progress in learning how to live with each other," Mr. Lynn said, citing as evidence the fact that there have been three world conflicts within the comparatively short span of 40 years.

The AFBF representative warned against the insidious threat of Communism, emphasizing at the same time that the two great forces at work in the world today are Communism and Democracy. "These forces are in a battle for the minds of men, and the winner will be determined largely by the leadership ability present in the two groups."

Mr. Lynn blamed the "ill-will" prevailing throughout the world on the lack of understanding between nations.

"The United States," he said, "has great responsibilities in international affairs, and we must accept these obligations and be willing to lead."

"If we keep our feet anchored solid on the rock of democracy and preserve our freedoms at home, we can point the way by furnishing the type of leadership that the world is so anxiously expecting from us," he said.

Mr. Lynn asserted that the Farm Bureau, over the years, has gained a reputation for developing programs that will not only serve agriculture but the entire economy. He stated that "we are striving to preserve freedom of opportunity for individuals, as well as groups, and have consistently and energetically opposed in Congress those measures which would take away this freedom."

He cited Farm Bureau opposition to the so-called Brannan Plan and the Granger bill as examples.

CHARLES PHILIP SMITH APPEARING IN PLAY AT UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Charles Philip Smith, son of Frank Folson Smith, Sr., Avenue C, extended, is appearing in the play "Goodbye, My Fancy," at the University of Arizona October 18 to 21.

The Kay Panin comedy is the first production of the 1950-51 season by the University's department of dramatic arts. Young Smith is a freshman majoring in dramatic arts. He previously attended V. P. I.

Supervisors May Petition Court for Bond Referendum

A delegation of 15 representatives of civic clubs and Parent-Teacher organizations in the Kempville Magisterial District called on the Princess Anne County School Board for more school facilities in the area to take care of overcrowded conditions in the schools.

The outcome probably will be that the School Board will ask the Board of Supervisors to petition the Circuit Court to call a special bond referendum for funds to construct 37 additional classrooms and to enlarge existing lunchroom facilities.

John B. Dey, board chairman, said the need for additional school facilities was county-wide, and architects will be brought in for estimates on the cost of providing adequate buildings.

Linwood Wright acted as spokesman for the group, representing the Parent-Teacher Associations of the Bayside and Kempville schools and the Union of Civic Leagues of the Kempville District.

The group asked for the Bayside Elementary School the addition of 10 classrooms, a library, an auditorium and enlarged cafeteria facilities.

For the Kempville schools, the addition of 10 high school classrooms, 12 elementary grade classrooms, a bandroom, a shop, a home economics laboratory, enlarged lunchroom facilities were asked.

The delegates claimed most of the some 350 pupil increase in the Princess Anne County schools this year is in the Kempville area where, for lack of space, some of the elementary classes are being held in a church.

Chairman Dey said the same overcrowded situation exists at Oceana and some pupils there are being taught in a once-abandoned frame building.

Two previous bond issues for the Kempville District have been approved by voters. One was in 1941 and the latest in 1948. Both the Bayside and Kempville schools were increased in size last year as the result of the 1948 referendum.

No figures as to the cost of the proposed expansion and improvements were mentioned, but some of the delegates privately estimated that $1,000,000 would be required.

Mr. Dey said the school board had been cognizant of the school needs for some time, but the spokesman for the delegates brought the situation out more forcefully.

Princess Anne Team Wins District Honors In Poultry Judging

Princess Anne County's 4-H poultry judging team, composed of Eugene Martin, Walter Gee, and Buddy Redfern, alternates, won the southeastern district 4-H poultry and egg judging contest held at Jamestown 4-H Camp. The Accome team, composed of John Lee Ward, Bobby Daugh, and Leonard Horner, placed second in the contest. Henrico County won third place.

Six counties competed in the contest. Kermit Sprull, of Henrico County, was high point individual, and received a scholarship to a 4-H camp or short course.

CREEDS-OCEANA JUNIOR VARSITY TO MEET TONIGHT

The Creeds High School football team will play this Oceana Junior Varsity at Oceana tonight at 8 o'clock.

HONORED—Father Nicholas Habets, parish priest at Star of the Sea Catholic Church, was honored Wednesday with a reception by the Woman's Circle of the church. Father Habets came to his present charge in July 1950.

Additional Office Space Provided At Town Hall

Additional office space has been added to the Town Hall for the use of the Public Works Department by the moving of the old Chamber of Commerce building to the rear of the hall.

The offices will house the engineer, the plumbing inspector, eventually the sanitary engineer, and all of the other public works employees.

The old frame building has had quite a moving history in its time. Originally constructed as a one-room office building for the Chamber of Commerce at the corner of 18th and Atlantic Avenue, it was added to twice before it was moved to a site on the corner of Arctic and 19th Street. It was occupied then by the Chamber, but that group left (in 1947) for their present offices on Atlantic Avenue near 22nd Street.

A day nursery, the community library, and various visiting engineers occupied it during the past few years.

The present meaning of the Navy expression "Aye, aye," which originally was "Yes, yes" (old English), is "I understand, sir, and I will do it."

TO SEE OURSELVES AS OTHERS SEE US

Virginia Beach has been in the limelight during the past week, but evidently it comes as no surprise to our neighbors throughout the State. The two Norfolk newspapers commented editorially last week. Below we reprint an editorial that appeared in the Roanoke (Va.) Times.

THE ODOR AT VIRGINIA BEACH

The wholesale acquittal of two dozen or more persons accused of violating State gambling laws at Virginia Beach comes as no surprise. It was anticipated. Virginia Beach wants gambling. It is, or seems to be, the popular will that gambling be tolerated there, no matter what the law of Virginia says.

As long as the public condones gambling at Virginia's largest resort, or pursues an apathetic attitude toward gaming, gambling will continue there. No law can be effectively upheld without public support.

The people of Virginia Beach, including those in official position, believe gambling to be an asset, a drawing card that brings tourists to the resort. If they did not consider gambling an attraction, they would not tolerate it. Gambling can be wiped out—if there is a will to do so. But there is no inclination either on the part of officials or the public to rid the resort of gaming palaces, slot machines, boardwalk gambling gimmicks and just about anything the sporting public wants except horses and dog tracks. The latter, incidentally, are nearby—just over the Carolina line.

Not having heard the evidence against the accused men, we do not know how much of a case was made by the Commonwealth. Perhaps the jury which decided the cases was not derelict in its duty; perhaps the evidence produced by the Commonwealth was insufficient to warrant more than two convictions.

But the word of three reputable citizens heard during the trials cannot be discounted.

One of them spilled the beans all over the place. H. H. Rumble, II, a business man, told the court that to report anything to the police was to no avail, it is "foolish for a man to go down there and buck" the police administration.

Rumble testified about personally observing conditions in one club which he characterized as "the worst I have ever seen." And why did he report his evidence to Commonwealth's Attorney Paul W. Ackles?

"The Commonwealth's Attorney's hands," he said, "are tied as are those of the police department."

Two Virginia Beach newspapermen also gave testimony about the operation of slot machines.

There is no reason why the testimony of these citizens should not be given credence. It is common knowledge that gambling, both petty and big-time, went on at Virginia Beach last summer just as it has every summer for years.

During his administration, Governor Tuck made an honest effort to break up the gambling rackets at Virginia Beach, sending undercover State Police to gather evidence that did produce convictions—but minor penalties.

It is a fact that a group of leading citizens waited on Mr. Tuck in an effort to get him to "call off his dogs." Mr. Tuck, of course, refused, even in the face of considerable political pressure from the Virginia Beach area.

Local law enforcement is the job of local police, not the State. Mr. Tuck stepped in only because the normal local law enforcement processes failed to function. His success was limited at best. It could be no more than that without the cooperation of local authorities.

The Virginia Beach situation is rotten to the core. It has been for years. And it will remain so until an aroused citizenry decides to do something about it.

We are not so much concerned about the moral aspects of gambling itself. We do object to the breakdown of local enforcement and the looting upon a great resort of a host of thugs and racketeers to operate with extra-legal license. What happens at Virginia Beach is of no particular concern to those of us in Western Virginia except that it constitutes a black spot on the fair map of the Old Dominion. And the smell of it does waft its way into our beloved hills.

—The Roanoke (Va.) Times

LOOKING BACK

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO — OCTOBER 18, 1929

A $50,000 bond issue was approved by the town council for general town improvements, according to the Virginia Beach News for October 18, 1929. The bond election would be held in November. The story led off with "Staging a desperate fight for a progressive move, the town council stuck to its guns Monday night before an attack of eleven women of the town, all members of the local Municipal League, on the street committee's recommendation that the flower beds in the middle of the street on Atlantic Avenue be removed." The opposition was led by Mrs. William B. Labough. She said that time and money spent by the ladies would be wasted if the plots of flowers were taken up for paving. The council pointed out that parking

The roar of duck hunter's guns would soon be heard to disturb the peaceful quiet of Back Bay and the Currtuck area, the News declared. The ducking season was but three weeks off. Prospects were said to be good, with plenty of celery grass and the right temperature. General William Mitchell was gunning for bear in the Great Dismal Swamp. Squirrel, on which the season opened on September 1, were said to be in short supply. The bag limit on squirrel was 10 daily, with a season's limit of 350, although few hunters were reported getting their daily limit.

Virginia Beach, Virginia
Dear Editor:

Aside from the defense attorney's attempt at the recent Prince Anne County Circuit Court trials for vice violations to make Commonwealth witnesses establish proprietorship of defendants instead of the State's attorney doing so by summoning the Commissioner of Revenue who issued the licenses, the most vital questioning by this counsel, Mr. Richard Kellam, hinged on why one did not report these breaches of the law to the authorities? Either through chance or design, this witness was not given an opportunity to answer this query, which brought from other Commonwealth testifiers, in substance, "It would have done no good."

Facetiously, but correctly, the answer may be stated as follows: Why explain the self-evident, explicate on the commonplace, or illustrate the obvious? In addition, did the brothers (including the judge) of the counsel for the defense or any of his courthouse coterie report on the open gambling violations which took place under their figurative noses at Seaside Park during the County Fair in September?

It has been my experience in taking up complaints which have been repeatedly neglected by the routine rank and file of an organization that it is wisest to discuss them with the manager. Sometimes then it requires continued needling to get relief.

The following correspondence is my reply to Mr. Richard Kellam's question, "Why were vice violations not reported to the Authorities?"

Hon. John S. Battle
Executive Office
State Capitol
Richmond, Virginia
Dear Governor Battle:

Despite Mark Twain's sharp witicism that "There are three kinds of lies—a lie, a damn lie and statistics," figures will doubtless prove that Virginia Beach and environs in the past decade have more than doubled in population as a residential community, but as a resort the number of temporary visitors during the same period is up no more than a meagre 15 per cent.

What does this indicate? Primarily, houses with prayer, meal time grace, mother's cooking, children at school and at play, newspapers, radio, video, books of a sort, culture, or a reasonable facsimile thereof; all of which adds up to HOME. This sacred word is recognized as the basis of family, state, nation and what is known as Western Civilization.

Recently into this more or less pastoral scene a crime wave has reared its evil crest.

A former officer of high repute, be he moral, immoral or unmoral, found a civil job of work required "esprit de corps" as of yore. Yesterday the objective was no longer a machine gun nest on hill 608 but a rat's nest on the "gobblers' knob" at East 608. Pinta is written—"mission accomplished."

To where the rats scurry is not the skipper's problem. Because the local politicians have built a better vermin haven the rats are beating a path to our door. Virginia Beach, instead of becoming a decent place to build a home, with all that this term implies, is now the sewer, both moral and physical, for Norfolk's East Main Street and New York City's minor league gangland via Florida (Florida couldn't stomach the rodents so fed them "Rough on Rats").

The score is what? Two nearby killings, an attempted violent killing within a block and a half of Virginia Beach's key corner, some nine nips, clip or gambling joints of one kind or another within the heart of the same Beach area, a counterfeit money spring-board, come on for teen-agers in spite of and not because of parents' cocktail habits, open purse snatching, an untold $100,000 stick-up, one of the most modern hotels here a winter brothel de luxe, reputed to be rife with depravity far beyond the normal functioning of the world's oldest profession. Other than gesture prosecutions and token convictions, what has happened? Exactly nothing!

It is evident that the local constabulary either will not or cannot cope with this lawlessness. Now the peash singing sporticians and their coterie with sweet, decent children and wives can not only countenance but stimulate such a squalid condition is beyond comprehension.

The most vicious attention in any community is unholy wedlock between organized crime and local government. Instead of law being a spear to ferret out and impale the criminal, it becomes a shield to protect evil from decency.

There are at least three state laws, gambling, prostitution and liquor, which are not just surreptitiously being broken by individuals here but openly flaunted by mobs.

In view of this, as a link between our heritage and posterity, the head of your own family and the Governor of a venerated Commonwealth, can you fail to heed this call for help, which is so much more vital to those involved than even the most disturbing issues of far off lands?

Respectfully,

J. WILLCOX DUNN

Mr. J. Willcox Dunn
Virginia Beach, Virginia
Dear Mr. Dunn:

I am in receipt of your letter of May first together with the attached letter which you prepared for release to the press.

I regret that in your discussion of conditions at Virginia Beach you did not particularize to the extent of supplying tangible information upon which enforcement action could be taken. As you know the primary responsibility for law enforcement in this State rests upon the local authority. I understand it has been the policy of the Governor's office in past years to respond readily to any request from local authorities for assistance in law enforcement.

That will continue to be the policy under my administration, and as evidenced in the recent coal mining areas in Virginia, it also will be my purpose to see to it that the State's obligation in these matters is discharged where local authorities are unwilling to properly enforce the law.

I shall be glad to receive information on specific violations which can be turned over to the proper authorities for appropriate investigation and action.

Very truly yours,

JOHN H. BATTLE

(Editor's Note: The balance of Mr. Dunn's correspondence with Governor Battle, and the Governor's replies to him, will be published in a later edition.)

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

No crystal ball here!

At some time in the future, it will be possible for you merely to pick up the telephone, dial the proper ten digits, and get anyone you wish to talk to, any place in the country! That's the forecast of telephone experts, based upon the theory and experiment already substantiated and proved — of today.

Teamwork smoothed the way

And teamwork can make a party line run smoothly, too. For instance, when you have a number of calls to make, it's better to space them out, and give your neighbors a chance on the telephone. And when you hear someone already on the line, hanging up gently is almost sure to get you the same treatment in return.

Look before you foot

A young bandit in Canada pushed the woman in charge of a restaurant into a small enclosure and slammed the door. Then he proceeded to rob the till. Before he could make his getaway, the police arrived. He had put the lady in a telephone booth. That's a new slant on your telephone's extraordinary usefulness.

Teen Age Club News

Activities Draw Large Numbers

The largest crowd this year was at the Community House Tuesday night. The Junior Women's Club held their regular meeting, and the Business and Professional Woman's Club put on a bride party which proved to be a big success. Many prizes were awarded.

including a Smithfield ham. Tuesday night also saw the beginning of a dancing class for the teen-agers of the club under the direction of Miss Shirley Dunn. She will teach different types of dancing every Tuesday night. A small fee is charged.

We have also had the largest number of teen-agers to turn out this season for television and other activities.

Membership Cards

Membership cards to the Teen-Age Club are still on sale. There are a few people who have not yet bought their cards and the Septem Club wants to urge all to buy them from any officer or person on the membership committee. This committee is composed of Catherine Meeks, Corinne Falconer, Emanuel Katsian, and Vernon Stevens.

Dances

This year the Teen-Age Club is trying a new idea in the way of dances. We plan to have about two dances a month—free admission. Our next dance will be on October 31 at 8 o'clock. The idea is to wear your oldest clothes. A prize will be awarded for the "best rig." We hope it will be a huge success.

With the Teen-Agers

We all were glad to see Pat N., Bobby R., Buddy E., Gene J., and Bobby C. home this week-end. They all looked good and we hope to see them more often.

This was a big week-end, with all the house parties and all the boys home. I know all the girls had a good time. How about that Gretchen? On October 21st, 1879, Thomas Edison perfected the first incandescent light bulb.

— that's not the point!

ABOUT THAT "priority of invention" that the Communists keep talking about...

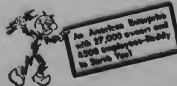

The point isn't whether the Russian scientist Lodygin invented electric light before Edison, but what happened after it was invented!

It is our system that has mass-produced for more people — at less cost — the daily benefits of such inventions.

The story-behind-the-lamp and the myriad miracles it led to — is the willingness of men of vision and courage to risk their capital to finance research and experimentation. If others, too, hadn't poured out their energy and time — to extend the wires farther and farther, make the service better and better, bring rates lower and lower... electricity, in this country as in others, might be the servant of only the rich.

But in our American pattern of accomplishment... electricity does so much for so many for so little!

Thomas-Jordan Wedding Takes Place Saturday at Calilee Church

The marriage of Miss Mary Minor Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Matthias Jordan, Jr., of Bay Colony, to William Allison Thomas, son of Vincent Graves Thomas, of Norfolk, and the late Mrs. Minnie Allison Thomas, took place on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Calilee Episcopal Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edmund Berkeley, rector of the church, in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with white Fall chrysanthemums, magnolia leaves and white candles. Mrs. George L. Aldridge, organist of the church, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a high round neckline, yoke of illusion, fitted bodice with bertha of duchess lace and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt formed a fan shaped train. Her full length veil of Brussels lace fell from a Juliet cap of lace with side clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a white prayer book covered with white cymidium orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Virginia LeGrand Cobb, of Durham, N. C., was maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a gown of turquoise blue slipper satin and taffeta, made with a short jacket of satin and full taffeta skirt with apron of satin draped in front and tied in the back to form a bustle. She carried a spiral cascade bouquet of Fleur d'Amour and Eucalyptus.

Vincent Johns Thomas, of Virginia Beach, was best man for his brother, and the groomsmen were Alexander Herbert Bell, Jr., David Swingley Ferebee, William Randolph Fowles and Lt. Howard Simpson, USA, all of Norfolk. Goodwin Shepherd Jordan, and James Matthias Jordan, III, of Virginia Beach, brothers of the bride, Alexander Herbert Bell was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Jordan, mother of the bride, wore a gown of Larkspur blue chiffon and a corsage of Albor orchids. Mrs. Vincent Graves Thomas, stepmother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of coral chiffon and a corsage of cream colored cymidium orchids.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the Princess Anne Country Club. Later Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for a Northern wedding trip and upon their return will reside at 1248 Westover Avenue, Norfolk. The bride wore for traveling a tweed suit with matching hat, brown accessories and a corsage of white cymidium orchids.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodwin Browne, of Lynchburg; William L. Zimmer, Jr., and Mrs. Madeline Jarman, of Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Davis Wills Jordan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Cooke, Jr., and Benjamin Pollard Alsop, of Richmond; Henry Shaw Reed, of Charlottesville; Miss Florence Twohy, of Washington; and Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Rodger Woodhull, of Pensacola, Fla.

H. H. Harper left last week to make his home in Petersburg, Va.

OCEANA HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

ACTIVITIES

4-H Club

The annual Princess Anne 4-H Club Achievement Program will be Monday, November 13, at the Kemperville High School, and the Oceana Senior 4-H Club is engaged in a frenzy of activities in preparation. An exhibit showing the progress made on the various projects carried by individual members and a skit showing the various activities sponsored by the club during the year are being prepared.

The club is launching a drive for new members, which will continue until the next meeting on November 7. In September 1949 the club had only 20 members. Through an extensive recreational program, educational tours, and the many attractive projects offered, the club grew to number approximately 50.

This year a new project in electricity is being offered. The club hopes that this project will induce more boys who do not live in rural sections to join.

A committee is working on a 4-H float depicting a harvest scene for the Ocean Bowl football game. The nominating committee is making a slate of new officers to be elected November 7.

"The Lighthouse"

"The Lighthouse" will be the name of the Oceana High School newspaper if it materializes this year. The staff held its first meeting Monday morning, October 16. All interested in being on the proposed staff were asked to be present. Among the important issues discussed at this meeting, other than possibilities, were definite plans for the paper. There are to be six issues, with each issue devoted primarily to a single class, starting with the eighth grade and progressing to the seniors. Also decided at this meeting, as a system of selecting the staff, was that each student wishing to be on the staff write, and turn over to the sponsors to be judged, an article on the field they have primary interest in.

Along with the sponsors, Mr. Broderick, Mr. Pickhardt, Miss Gornito, and Miss Preston, the entire faculty feels the need and the value of a newspaper in a school the size of Oceana. We feel sure that with the competent staff, sponsorship and the help of all we will have a good newspaper this year.

Beta Club

A meeting of the Beta Club was held in the school cafeteria on Monday morning. Plans were made for the initiation of the new Beta members. The most important topic discussed was the selling of Christmas cards to Roanoke for the annual Beta convention in March. We hope the student body will support the Beta members in this drive.

United Nations Week

United Nations Week is being observed at Oceana High this week, October 16-24. An extensive display has been set up in the library exhibiting articles, clothing, etc., from various countries. Also the committee has taken over all the school bulletin boards. The teachers are stressing in their classes brotherhood of countries through films, discussions, and displays. This week will conclude with a speaker and student program in assembly Tuesday, October 24, with U. N. as the theme for the day. The purpose of this week is to give students a broader world outlook and the theme is "Today's Best Hope for Peace is U. N. Plus You."

Faculty Meeting

The Oceana High School faculty held its regular meeting Monday, October 16. The main issues discussed were: student behavior in the school in general, student behavior in the lunch room, and on the playground specifically, and the six weeks grading (methods of distributing grades). It was announced by Mr. Strickler that reports for the first six weeks period will be given out Tuesday afternoon.

Significance of Grades

Grades are, after all, not what a "student" should be working for. A "pupil" may have an A, B or C as his goal, but the real value of a grade is the stimulation it provides for the student. In other cases a grade could act as a warning and in this way cause better work.

The student is the one that should be concerned with his achievement; it's his work, his life, and his business to acquire all knowledge possible. There is a cooperation element between three groups involved in forming the individual—the parent, the teacher and the individual student. It's impossible for the three to be separated. For this reason, once every six weeks a special provision is made to acquaint the parents and students and even teachers with just how well the individual is succeeding in learning what is necessary for him to know in order to take a valuable place in society. Grades are indicators, not definite, precise, measurements of one's intellect.

Smithfield Beats Oceana 57-13

by Howard Savage
Smithfield, making a strong start, defeated Oceana last Friday night by a score of 57 to 13. Oceana got off to a late start but came back in the fourth quarter with two tallies.

Smithfield's first score came in the opening minutes when half-back Frank Turner raced 65 yards for the score. Batters' attempt to convert was wide of the uprights. Minutes later Smithfield was again deep in Oceana territory, and Tom Crowley went over from the six. A high pass from center ruined the chance for Batters' conversion.

Smithfield again scored late in the first quarter when a pass from Wilson Johnson was intercepted on the 45 yard line by Sonny Crowley, who raced along the sideline 55 yards to pay dirt. Batters' try for the extra point again failed.

The second quarter found only one score for Smithfield. This came on a wide lateral pass to Frank Turner from Stanley Knick from the 4 yard line of Oceana. Batters' kick was again wide.

Smithfield's fifth score came in the third period when Bennie Smith scored from the 13 on a reverse. Batters, apparently having a bad night, again failed to convert.

The final Smithfield score came late in the third period on a short pass from Knick to left end Modlin which covered 11 yards. Batters finally succeeded in kicking the extra point.

Smithfield kicked off to Oceana in the beginning of the fourth quarter. Wilson Johnson, Oceana quarterback, raced 91 yards for the first Oceana score. This was the longest run of the game and the longest Oceana run this year. The try for the extra point was successful.

Oceana again scored when full-back Royce Byrd went over from the 19 yard line. Bourdon's attempted conversion failed. The final score was 57 to 13 in Smithfield's favor.

For Smithfield: Oceana LE—A. Gwaltney; F. Allen LT—J. Dell; C. Widgson LG—S. Blomson; S. Hull C—N. Hemick; A. Smith RG—H. Griggs; J. McDaniels RT—Bert Batters; E. Farrar

RE—Bobby Batters; J. Fall QB—S. Knick; W. Johnson RB—B. Brown; D. Brown LB—F. Turner; R. Bourdon FB—T. Crowley; R. Byrd

Railroads use about 3,000 wood crossties per mile.

The American Tree Farm program started in Grape Harbor County, Wash., in 1947.

The "ponvey," one of the most useful of logging tools, was invented in 1855 by Joseph Purvey, a Stillwater, Maine blacksmith.

Looking for POWER?

Better Buy Buick!

THAT bold bonnet that stretches out before your eyes on a 1950 Buick isn't there just for show.

Lift it up, and you'll find that the space beneath is abundantly occupied, by one of the biggest hoodfuls of power you'll find in any motorcar.

What you're looking at is Buick's modern version of the high-compression valve-in-head engine, which gains extra wallop from the fact that it uses the exclusive Fireball combustion principle.

We could list a lot of mechanical reasons why fuel gives up extra power in a Fireball engine—how it's wrapped in a swirling, ball-shaped charge—how it burns with a smooth, clean thrust that delivers maximum action.

But the best way to find out what all this means is to touch off the eager horsepower out on the highway by a gentle nudge of your toe—and feel your shoulders press deep in the cushions behind them.

Now all this sounds thrilling, you say, but how about the feed-bills for all these horses? How about miles-per-gallon?

The practical answer to that one is found in this year's experience with the SUPER and SPECIAL—and even the ROADMASTER.

In all three, the horsepower was stepped up at the start of the year—and in all three, happy owners report the best mileage in modern Buick experience.

This is due to a little-known but authentic engineering fact—which is that an engine burns less gas when it doesn't have to labor. At any normal driving speed, therefore, extra power is extra thrifty.

So we say again—if you're looking for power—mighty power—buoyant power—silken power—thrifty power—better buy Buick.

Your Buick dealer is eager for the chance to demonstrate how sound this hint really is.

Only BUICK has Superflow Valve-in-Head engines. (Over 1-200 engines in Superflow design.) A SUPERFLOW ENGINE, with VALVE-IN-HEAD combustion, has two valves for each cylinder. This two-valve design permits the engine to breathe more freely, from which springs, Buick's 1950 1951 1952 1953 1954 1955 1956 1957 1958 1959 1960 1961 1962 1963 1964 1965 1966 1967 1968 1969 1970 YOUTH SUNDAY AT HISTORIC EASTERN SHORE CHAPEL

Last Sunday was Youth Sunday at Historic Eastern Shore Chapel, and the service was conducted by the youth of the church, with Donald Allen, Religious Education Consultant of the Diocese in charge. Robert Forbes and Jon Brathwaite read the lesson, Carter Cornick was usher, and Davis Reed, III, and William Brathwaite took the offering. The children also decorated the altar of the old church. Shown above are those who took part and the children's choir. They are (front row, left to right): Bill Brathwaite, Martha Ann Reed, Sally Chesney, Betty Mansfield, Kay Miller, Mary Lee Walton, Fannie Reed, Bill Miller, Billy Shield, and Festaine Syer; (second row): Billy Walphure, Davis Reed, III, Ashby Taylor, Frank Shield, Marshall Taylor, Michael Brathwaite, Lee Syer; (third row): Jon Brathwaite, Margaret Forbes, Robert Forbes, Bill Brathwaite, and Mr. Allen. —Simmons Photo

Luncheon Meeting
Of Bird Neck Garden Club Held Tuesday

The Bird Neck Garden Club held a luncheon meeting on October 17 honoring the new members of the club. Mrs. E. Fuller Moore, Mrs. Rufus Knight, Mrs. J. G. Smith, Mrs. H. D. Pangbener, and Mrs. J. J. Sutherland. The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Julius Schlain.

Mrs. Griffin Deal, the president, announced that prizes to be awarded to the members having the best all around spring garden will be donated through the courtesy of Roadside Gardens, Cavalier Gardens, and C. H. Driskill, local nurseryman.

Miniature and small flower arrangements were brought by members to be judged and commented upon by Mrs. J. N. Bell and Mrs. Clinton Woodhouse, who acted as judges. Ribbons were won by Mrs. C. F. Meers, Mrs. David Stormont, Mrs. W. V. Barbour, Mrs. Deal, and Mrs. Carl Wunder.

Mrs. Paul Gallup was named corresponding secretary to fill the post left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. W. H. Smith.

Mrs. Floyd Lee Smith will be hostess for the November meeting.

With every Southern state now stressing good forest management, the golden age of forestry is just beginning in the South.

Friends of Andy Gustafson, formerly of Virginia Beach, will be interested in the sports comment which appeared in the Orlando (Fla.) Morning Sentinel, of Monday, October 18:

"Like the woman driver who suddenly decided to turn to the left after giving a right-handed signal, Florida football fans today are grudgingly forced to concede that Andy Gustafson is the man who has suddenly made the nation's football forces become Florida minded.

"His Miami University's stunning victory over Purdue handed that detail most convincingly for Purdue is the team that mapped Notre Dame's winning streak—or hadn't you heard? So that puts Miami high up on the list of the nation's power houses.

"In light of Miami's triumph, it's understandable that perhaps the most successful week-end in Florida football history should go unnoted.

Joe McMullen's Stetson University Hatters continued undefeated by sweeping Milligan; Tampa came through with an upset win over favored Wofford and FSU made it complete by defeating Howard College. You will note that the undefeated slate was made against out-of-state competition.

"It was the week-end of week-ends as far as Florida football was concerned, but for the time being at least, Mr. Gustafson's Miami team has the spotlight—and rightly so."

Town Council Votes to Purchase Norfolk Southern Right-of-Way Property in Town for $125,000

Property Includes Block Now Used As Public Playground

The Virginia Beach Town Council, in special session Monday night, voted to accept an offer the Norfolk Southern Railway Company advanced to sell right-of-way and other property in the town for $125,000. On first reading last Thursday, the purchase was authorized with the contingency that the finance committee find ways and means of financing it. Since that time the "money is assured," according to H. A. Jones, town clerk.

An important part of the property is a block between Atlantic and Pacific avenues and 19th and 20th streets, in front of the Town Hall, which has been proposed for a convention hall site.

Railroad right-of-way property involved in the transaction includes a 24-foot strip from a point 70 feet south of 24th Street, where it touches street right-of-way owned by the town, to 26th Street; a 40-foot strip from 24th to 40th Street to the north limit of the town.

According to a letter to J. T. Kingsley, president of the railroad, from Town Attorney Roy Smith, the transaction is to be completed by December 15, "or as soon thereafter as legally possible."

The council first voted on the proposed purchase last Thursday night, tentatively accepting the railroad's offer if funds were in sight. Town Manager W. Russell Hatchett told the council Monday that the funds had been assured.

Mayor H. E. Halden, who presided, asked Town Engineer Carroll J. Bounds to proceed with plans for the widening and improvement of Pacific Avenue, now that the right-of-way has been arranged. Mr. Bounds said that the preliminaries to starting the work could be completed within a year and the project finished in about 18 months. Petitions will be sent through the State Highway Department's resident engineer for State and Public Roads Administration funds to assist in the project.

Galilee Men's Club To Hold Service of Worship Sunday

Special Service Is to Prepare for Every Member Canvass

The Men's Club of Galilee Episcopal Church will hold a corporate service of worship by attending morning prayer at the eleven o'clock service in a body Sunday, October 29. The club members will form at Tucker Hall at ten minutes before eleven, join in the procession with the choir, and occupy a section of pews especially reserved for them. The Rev. Edmund Berkeley, rector of Galilee, will deliver the sermon. Lay readers of the church will participate in the reading of the service.

This special service of worship is in preparation for the Every Member Canvass, which will be sponsored by the club under the co-chairmanship of William P. Dickson, Jr., and Herbert Smith, III. The actual organization of the two teams of canvassers will be set up at the November meeting of the club, which will be held on Wednesday, November 1, in the Parish House.

The club will sponsor the annual congregational meeting on Monday, November 27, at which time the Rev. Beverly Tucker White, rector of St. Andrew's, Norfolk, and chairman of the Department of Promotion of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, will speak.

The club will hold its annual Corporate Communion at 8 a.m., Sunday, December 3, the first Sunday in Advent, with the rector as celebrant. This nationwide celebration for laymen is sponsored by the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America.

At the regular December supper meeting of the club, the Rev. Moultrie Querry, D.D., rector of Old St. Paul's, Norfolk, will be the guest speaker.

Two Methodist Pastors Get New Appointments

Van Dyck, Reynolds To Be Succeeded by Carlton, Turner

Two Methodist pastors of this area this week were transferred to other charges by Bishop W. W. Peele in the reading of appointments of the Virginia Conference on Monday.

They are the Rev. Frank H. Van Dyck, pastor of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, who will go to Memorial Church, Petersburg; and the Rev. J. W. Reynolds, who has served as pastor of the South Princess Anne Methodist Church, who goes to Bishop Memorial Church in Richmond.

The Rev. and Mrs. Reynolds will leave the county next Thursday, November 2. He will hold services at the Beech Grove and Knotts Island churches this Sunday.

Succeeding the Rev. Mr. Reynolds will be the Rev. H. F. Turner, who is being transferred from the King William Charge. Mr. Turner has had much experience in rural work, having served as pastor of the Boykins, Louisa, and Tappanhook churches prior to the present one. He and Mrs. Turner have three children, all of them grown. They have a grandson, age 13, who is living with them. The Turners will arrive in the county November 2.

The Rev. Mr. Van Dyck, who has served at Virginia Beach for four years, will be succeeded by the Rev. G. S. Carlton, from the Memorial Church, Petersburg, the church to which Mr. Van Dyck goes.

Chesapeake Beach Ladies to Sponsor Harvest Festival

Parade November 2 To Lead off Big Three-Day Event

A three-day annual "Harvest Festival," sponsored by the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach, will get underway Thursday, November 2 with a parade down the main streets of the community at 7:15 p.m. The parade will be led by the Kempsville High School Band under the direction of James A. Castwell. As a climax of the parade the band will give a concert at the Community House, officially opening the one-night hobby show and art exhibit.

The hobby show will include collections of copper, silver, china, cut glass, ship and airplane models, jewelry, woodwork, guns, dolls, and all kinds of handwork. The Lake Joyce Garden Club will contribute the flower arrangements. The art exhibit will include the work of adults and children of the community. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

Friday will be "Scout Day" and the local Boy and Girl Scout troops will hold open house.

On the agenda for Saturday's activities will be a children's costume parade at 2:15 p.m. The parade will start at Lee Manor and disband at the Community House where a rodeo in miniature will be presented. Prizes will be awarded the best decorated bicycle and the best costume.

Supper will be served from 5 to 7 p.m., followed by a musical program presented by Mrs. J. L. Judge, and folk dancing directed by Miss Jean Baldwin, director of the Princess Anne District, Virginia Tidewater Area Council of Girl Scouts.

Drawing for the grand prize of $500 will bring the three-day festival to a close.

Mrs. Lewis Cassey is general chairman. Committee chairmen are: hobby show and art exhibit: Mrs. E. L. King, Mrs. H. W. Newsome, Mrs. J. R. Bryant, Mrs. T. J. Austin, Mrs. E. R. Hines, Mrs. R. S. Mullin, Mrs. L. L. Dillon, Mrs. V. G. Allen, Mrs. W. E. Senter, and Mrs. E. L. Cooper; country store: Mrs. M. L. Clifton; white elephants: Mrs. Allen; costume parade and rodeo: Mrs. C. G. Falson; children's games: Mrs. G. F. Wilkinson, Jr.; Mrs. R. W. Sprull, Mrs. R. J. Vellines, and Mrs. B. V. Reynolds, Jr.

A Harvest Festival poster contest was sponsored by the Woman's Club for the fifth and sixth grade students of Bayside School, with prizes for the three outstanding posters.

Oceana PTA to Hold Halloween Bazaar

Mrs. J. B. Murden and Mrs. C. B. Spence, co-chairmen, announce that the Oceana Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a Halloween Bazaar on Tuesday evening, October 31, at the Oceana Stadium.

There will be square dancing and prizes for the most original, funniest, and prettiest costume. A variety of booths will feature candies, cakes, hot dogs, peanuts, oysters, bag bag, dart game, balloons, fortune tellers. Everyone is invited to attend.

Important Notice TO ALL HALLOWEEN GOBLINS AND WITCHES

The annual Merchants Halloween Party will be held at the Playground on Tuesday evening, October 31.

As usual, prizes of all kinds will go to the various winners of the contests for spooks and hobgoblins. The funniest, prettiest, scariest, and a host of others will compete in all age groups for the wonderful prizes the merchants have lined up with the help of the Volunteer Firemen.

County Takes Steps to Form Sanitation District for North Virginia Beach Section

Larger Mains Would Be Installed to Get More Water Pressure

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors on Monday took the first step toward the formation of a sanitation district in North Virginia Beach, when it named C. A. Mowry chairman of a 12-member committee to form the district for North Virginia Beach. Installation of a new 12-inch water main and eventually a sewer system are objectives in forming the district.

The existing eight-inch main installed years ago from the Town of Virginia Beach has proved inadequate to meet the growth of the area. The main was installed by private interests developing the area, and was later acquired and serviced by the town and financed by a special assessment on connections. Town Manager W. Russell Hatchett explained.

Two years ago, part of the area was connected to a government-owned main serving Fort Story; but after the vacation season this year, about September 15, the government said it could no longer spare water for the area.

Contamination Feared

Worth Petty, Town of Virginia Beach sanitation engineer, sounded a note of serious warning. He told the supervisors the area would be uninhabitable in summer without increased water pressure. He recalled that in 1943 when the water had been cut off for a few hours to repair a pump, a contamination developed in the water lines. The State Health Department regarded the situation serious enough to require all residents of the area to take typhoid inoculations. Without adequate water pressure, Mr. Petty said, the State Health Department would condemn the area's water supply.

Carroll J. Bounds, town engineer, said the town had purchased enough 12-inch main to lay the required line, which it would sell to the county at cost. His estimate for the installation was $40,000. It would tie in at the Cavalier Shores pumping station and extend to 63rd Street.

Mr. Hatchett proposed that the town lay the line and be reimbursed by the county.

Princess Anne Circuit Court Clerk William F. Hudgins told the board that the water main was a local problem and suggested that a means be found to confine the cost to the locality. Other opposition appeared from parts of the county not concerned.

Supervisor Walter C. Maher made a motion to create a special sanitation district for North Virginia Beach, which includes the area between the Virginia Beach limit and Fort Story.

Other members appointed to the committee after Mr. Maher's motion carried, were Henry S. Lewis, Conrad Little, C. W. Koenig, Eldridge Whitehurst, Mr. Margaret Addenbrook, Dan Osborne, J. Peter Holland, Jr., Mrs.

Martita Johnson, Paul W. Acheson, and Mr. Maher.

A. L. Dudley headed an East Ocean View delegation requesting approval of an extension of the East Ocean View Sanitation District to include the section from 13th to 27th Streets. He presented a petition with the signatures of approximately 50 residents. The supervisors acted favorably.

The State Highway Commission asked Princess Anne County to deed it a total of 95 feet of right-of-way along both sides of Route 58 between Kellam Road and Thalia Creek, which the supervisors voted to do.

UN Flag Presented

Mrs. Finley Paxson, newly elected president of the Princess Anne County Home Demonstration Club Committee, presented a United Nations flag made by members of the committee to the supervisors for the county. The supervisors accepted it but did not decide what use to make of it. It was suggested that the flag be put in the supervisors' room, also that a new flag pole be set up on the Courthouse lawn.

Purchasing System Studied

Swindle Pollock, county purchasing agent, proposed the installation of a centralized purchasing system, patterned after that of the City of Norfolk and other municipalities and counties. The supervisors decided to ask the state for information regarding the system in other counties.

Junior Women to Canvass Homes Community Chest Drive Underway

Fund Drive Area Captains Named By Junior Women

For the second year, the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County is conducting the house to house canvass in Virginia Beach and surrounding communities for the Princess Anne County Community Chest Fund Drive. Mrs. Robert G. Barr, Jr., is chairman, and Mrs. J. Peter Holland, III, is co-chairman.

The following members have been appointed captains in the various areas:

Mrs. W. J. Roberts, captain for Rudee Heights; Mrs. Clyde Whitehead, 8th to 16th Street; Mrs. George Newkirk, 17th to 20th Street; Miss Ann Culpepper, Shadow Lawn to Cypress Avenue; Mrs. W. T. Walker, 21st to 24th Street; Mrs. J. W. Wolcott, Jr., 25th to 27th Street; Mrs. J. C. Jackson, 28th to 31st Street; Mrs. W. M. Snider, 32nd to 40th Street; Mrs. W. P. Kellam, Cavalier Shores;

Mrs. J. Marvin Woolf, Avenue C, D and E; Mrs. Herbert L. Smith, III, Linkhorn Park; Mrs. Robert G. Barr, Jr., Cavalier Park and Bay Colony; Mrs. J. Peter Holland, III, 51st to 60th Street; Mrs. R. C. Connell, 83rd to Fort Story Gate.

Halloween Party Tonight at Creeds

The Parent-Teacher Association of Creeds High School will sponsor a Halloween party to be held in the school tonight, Friday, October 27, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Elaborate plans have been made for the occasion. Ghosts, goblins, black cats and witches will walk in addition to a fortune teller, a freak show and a cake walk. A program has been planned by the children of the school for 8 o'clock. Prizes will be given for the best costumes. All spooks are urged to wear a costume or pay a fine of a silver offering as they enter.

Community Chest Canvassers for Town Named

The line up for the Community Chest campaign has been drawn up with an eye to the quick conclusion of the drive within the time limit set, according to Admiral James M. Shoemaker, who is heading up the Virginia Beach section. County chairman is R. F. Frank, Jr.

A $12,000 goal has been set for the county, with $4,800 to come from Virginia Beach and environs.

The town's line up includes: Fred Cooke and Henley Moore, 17th Street; Louis Dickens, Atlantic Avenue from 16th to 17th Street; R. J. Cherry, 17th to 19th Street; Peter Holland, III, 19th to 21st Street; Al Mallies, 21st to 23rd Street; Howard Myers, 23rd to 27th Street; R. B. Webb, 27th to 29th Street; town organization, R. A. Jones, H. A. Holt and W. W. McManan, 31st Street; residential, under the auspices of the Junior Woman's Club, chairmaned by Mrs. R. G. Barr, Jr., and Mrs. Peter Holland, Jr.; hotels, James Kitchin, Charles Gillman and Sidney Banks.

The dates for the campaign are October 23 through November 6.

Dr. Jekely Warns Jaycees of Dangers Of Communism

The Junior Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday heard a famous Hungarian resistance leader say, "The decent people of this world cannot rest until the threat of Communism is removed and until this horror disappears from the face of the earth." That was the message to the Jaycees from Dr. László Jekely, chief of the cabinet of the President of the Hungarian Republic.

Briefly, Dr. Jekely declared that Communism is the enemy of God, of morale, of the church and the family. It robs its victims of freedom, democracy, property and their children's future. Not only does it steal the rights of free enterprise, but the rights of the workers. It destroys the will of the people and domestic happiness.

Driver Training Course in High Schools Showing Good Results

Mrs. Bessie Ackiss Buried Wednesday

Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County on Monday lost in death a prominent life-long resident of the area. Mrs. Bessie Shield Kempehall Ackiss, 76, the widow of Judge A. Johnston Ackiss, died at her residence, 306 27th Street, Monday at 11:18 a.m.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Madge Ackiss Taliaferro, of Virginia Beach; a granddaughter, Mrs. Paul F. Landis, of Norfolk; a grandson, John A. Taliaferro, of Virginia Beach, and a great-granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Shield Landis.

The body was taken from the residence to the Eastern Shore Chapel, of which she was a member, for funeral services Wednesday at 2 p.m. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Kempsville PTA to Meet Wednesday

The Kempsville Parent-Teacher Association will meet Wednesday, November 1, at 8 p.m., at the school. Mrs. William W. Johnson, health chairman, will be in charge of the program. The speaker will be Miss Jane Craig, county home demonstration agent, who will speak on the subject, "Nutrition and Your Child."

The sixth grade has made posters for the program. The seventh grade will elect a Health King and Queen.

Club Members to Hear C. H. Driskill

C. H. Driskill, owner of the Lake Holly Green House, will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Bay Colony Garden Club. He will speak on "Suggestions for Fall Gardens."

The meeting will be held Wednesday, November 1, at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. William Bruce, with Mrs. J. H. Thompson, III, serving as co-hostess.

Driver training programs, including instruction in principles of safety at the wheel, proper care of a car and traffic regulations governing conduct on the highway, are being conducted at Oceana and Kempsville high schools.

L. L. Clark, Chevrolet dealer here, who has contributed the training car used at Oceana, says that the safety course is the best means yet contrived of reducing accidents on the highway.

He declared: "Insurance records show that young drivers cause five times as many fatal accidents as drivers in the 45-50 age group.

"The best way to meet this deadly problem is to train the young driver in safety and to emphasize to him the dangers of carelessness and excessive speed on the highway."

The dealer said that in one state where driver education was taught in all high schools for eight years, traffic deaths in the 16-24 age group dropped from 433 a year to 38, reversing the national trend, which showed a consistent increase.

Injuries during this period were cut from 19,614 a year to 1,693, according to Mr. Clark, who said: "Today only about 3,000 high schools out of the 35,000 in the United States have a driver training course. Some authorities hope to make the course compulsory in all high schools in the country.

"Certainly some such drastic move is needed to reduce highway accidents, which last year killed 32,000 people and injured more than a million."

Drive-In to Begin New Schedule

Next week the Virginia Beach Drive-In Theatre will begin operation on week-ends only, beginning with Friday night's performance of "I Was a Male War Bride," with Cary Grant and Ann Sheridan. Shows are scheduled to begin at 7:15 p.m. nightly. The full schedule will be in operation until further notice.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST

The time has come once again for all good citizens to support the Princess Anne County Community Chest.

So worthy a cause must be supported, and even though in this period of war and unrest, high taxes and high living it is not always easy to give generously to a campaign, in this one the results are well worth it.

Community spirit must be led with a real feeling for those less fortunate than we, and here we have an opportunity to support just such a spirit.

Let us give to the Community Chest. Let us join together now to make this year's drive a successful one.

CENTRALIZED PURCHASING

At the Board of Supervisors meeting, along toward the last of the full day's deliberations, the Supervisors turned to a matter of the utmost importance to themselves and the people of the county. That was a centralized purchasing system for all of the departments of the county government.

Princess Anne County is big business nowadays. Revenues of some million and a half dollars put it in that class. To purchase supplies for the police department, the jail, and other departments in the haphazard fashion of the past is just plain inefficient.

Buying insurance, foods for the jail, and all of the multitude of small things that a county government must have, should be approached with the old adage of "penny saved, penny earned" in mind, for the very smallness of the items in many instances puts the price way out of line in comparison with prices on wholesale lots or prices put out on bid to more than one firm.

For example, a case might be automobile tires for the police cars, or bread for the jail. In the latter case, Norfolk has a contract with a baker, arrived at through bids, for bread supplied at a much lower price than the over-the-counter price of 14 cents. Those five cents saved on one loaf of bread are not to be sneered at by any means, although it seems a piddling sum. The same savings might be accomplished all along the line with an approved, well-planned purchasing arrangement through a central purchasing agent for the county.

It would take purchasing out of the boys-who-did-a-favor-have-to-be-paid-back-don't-they school, the way it is apparently run at the present time.

MR. HATCHETT AND THE BIG STICK

We were particularly interested in the remarks of the new town manager, W. Russell Hatchett, at last Thursday's special meeting of the town council. Mr. Hatchett then served notice that he intended to rid the Beach of some of the unsavory nip joints, gambling rooms, and small-time gangsters (he didn't use that word, but it is the one that applies to our furtive little brethren) which have been like so many blights on a nice place like Virginia Beach. He said that he thought of them as "to put it mildly, objectionable." He told the townspeople that the police chief had promised his best effort to put them down.

We are heartily in accord with Mr. Hatchett's aim, and we await the consummation of his promise to the people.

We await, also, to see how good the police chief's "best" effort will be along these lines.

May 11, 1939

Hon. John S. Battle
Governor's Office
Richmond, Virginia

Dear Governor Battle:

Thank you for your prompt reply of May 9th to my recent communication to you.

While I am not unmindful of the necessity for successful legal prosecutions as a condition precedent to criminal convictions, I cannot subscribe to the theory that when known conditions of a criminal nature exist, that it be the duty of the individual citizen to establish the case legally before the law enforcement agencies will even make an investigation.
Does one have to legally prove that a smoke-butching, home destroying conflagration is a fire before the firemen will swing its attendant nation-wide publicity. Mr. R. H. Gore, editor of the Fort Lauderdale Daily News, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, will, I am sure, let you have a copy of one of that paper's editorials of several months ago relative to the feeding between a Detroit mob and Virginia Beach racketeers over operational rights in Broward County, Florida. From the March issue of True Detective magazine you can learn what Virginia Beach's recreational facilities did to a Norfolk bank clerk. The attached clippings, Mayor Fretlow Dartson's administration review and an editorial, "On the Spot," taken from today's Virginia Beach News, appear pertinent. It may be interesting to check the list of guests at a recent anniversary party given to a former Virginia Beach Chief of Police at Ciro's and allegedly by its management.

I realize that it is obvious that the local constabulary either cannot or will not cope with existing crime in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. At best a raw "rookie" is pitted against seasoned "pros."

If a badly spreading fire threatens the entire community and the local fire department either be so stubborn, incapable or derelict as to fail to call for nearby help, am I, an affected citizen, to be denied this right?
If the answer be yes, the evolution of Anglo-Saxon government is set back hundreds of years.

The foregoing should be enough to warrant an investigation, even under your interpretation of the responsibility of the State's executive pertaining to law enforcement. If you will conduct such without the opportunity arising for the prey to be flushed before there is a fair chance for "bagging" you find no evidence of State laws being violated at Virginia Beach or in Princess Anne County. I will, privately, or publicly, apologize for wasting the tax payers' money; but be it to the contrary and the State takes no action, it shall be my purpose to shout from the house tops that our tax money is definitely being dissipated by those who are hired to spend it judicially, in addition to our government consciously or unconsciously destroying the very foundations upon which it was created.

Respectfully,

J. WILLCOX DUNN

Dear Governor Battle:

Let these may not have come to your attention, I am attaching clippings from two recent issues of the Virginia Beach News.
The Court action indicated, read in the light of the other material, makes it quite evident that there is chivalry among rodents, i. e.

Incidentally, the information seems to confuse a lot of people:

statements out of Washington to

The verdict as to whether the defense counsel has been properly answered and if the Governor has not been derelict in his State law enforcement is left in the lap of the Jury—Public Opinion.

In view of the foregoing, is there any lingering doubt that the witnesses for the Commonwealth were not justified in answering the defense attorney's query "Why were vice violations not reported to authorities?" with "It would have done no good!"

Dance A Grand Success

Well, we've had another dance, and quite a success, too! Makes us really look forward to another. Something that really made the dance a success was seeing the boys home on leave. They all looked so good. Some of the girls and boys came dressed in their "oldest" clothes. We gave away a box of candy and sold a large number of membership cards. There are still a lot of people who haven't bought their cards, and we do wish they would.

The Allied Youth of Oceana High is sponsoring a dance here next Saturday night. We hope everybody will be here to support this fine organization.

With the Teen-Agers

Margaret Anne F., we hear you have a good time this week-end. Better watch out!

Rupert, why are you going up to Radford this week-end? Could it be to see Estelle?

Bessie C., did you enjoy Sunday night? How about that?

Margaret Anne M., where is your senior ring? Could T. C. still have it?

Jane W., who do you have a crush on? And did you have a good time this week-end?

Wilbur Snow, how do you feel after the week-end? Did you have a good time?

We sure do hate to see Paul C. Bobby T., Nicky and Sonny D. leave for the service.

Who were you with this week-end, Skitay? Nice time, huh?

We hear you really like it over at the Division, Vernon. How are these parties coming along?

Shirley, we sure have seen you and George V. together a lot. Is this a new romance blooming?

We hear you had a good time this week-end, Gretchen. You and Pat sure make a cute couple!

Catherine M., are you in love again, and is it still that certain party?

How are you and Tommy making out these days, Joan? What's the secret?

Has Bunny still got a crush on that certain somebody? Mainly B. E.

Smitty really makes a fine president of the club, don't you think?

With all the boys going away, it looks like we girls will have to form a hen party. But just wait for the week-end—Norfolk! Here we come!

American's meat diet and play a basic role in everyday eating habits, the American Can Company points out in a recent study of meat consumption trends. The use of canned meats in the United States has climbed almost sevenfold since the mid-1920's—from a little over 220,000,000 pounds in 1926 to about one and one-half billion pounds last year. Leading the canned meat parade are processed luncheon meats, which alone account for 20 per cent of the total, canned hams, corned beef hash, chili con carne and Vienna sausage. The can company survey goes on to explain that Americans last year ate the fantastic total of almost 24 billion pounds of meat and meat products—both canned and fresh—which averaged about 160 pounds for every man, woman and child in the country. Twenty-four years ago per capita consumption was only about 139 pounds.

Reba Alice Patty, Frank E. Adamich Wed Saturday

The marriage of Miss Reba Alice Patty, daughter of Mrs. Emma Nichols Patty, Lenox City, Tenn., to Frank E. Adamich, USN, U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Oceana, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Adamich, Port Angeles, Washington, was solemnized on Saturday, at 10 a.m., at the Star of the Sea Catholic Church. The Rev. Nicholas J. Rabeta, parish priest, read the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Sidney Marshall Patty, of Virginia Beach. The church was decorated with palms, white chrysanthemums, ivy and lighted candles.

Mrs. Charles H. Hitchings played the wedding music, and Joseph White sang "Ave Maria," "Pania Angelicus," and "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy."

The bride wore a gown of skinner satin. The décolletage was screened in lace and the waist accented the bustle-topped court train. She wore matching mitts. Her finger-tip length veil of imported illusion was arranged from a tiara of orange blossoms and she carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid. Matron of honor was Mrs. Jerry D. Croce, of Norfolk, who wore a gown of blue satin, with lace midriff and yoke, matching mitts. She carried a bouquet of mixed autumn flowers and wore a headband of matching flowers. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Cyril Paulson, of Norfolk, and Miss Jean Roberts, of Norfolk, who wore gowns to match that of the matron of honor in contrasting shades of pastel. They also carried autumn flowers and wore headbands of matching blossoms.

The best man was G. Q. Di-Croce, of Norfolk. Ushers were C. F. Paulson, USN, Norfolk, and T. W. Allinder, USN, Virginia Beach. Mrs. Joe L. Miller, Virginia Beach, acted as mistress of ceremonies. The reception was held immediately following the wedding in the Star of the Sea Parish House.

The bride's going away costume was a suit of autumn brown with matching accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

The couple left on a New York wedding trip. After their return, they will reside at Virginia Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. George Powell, Jr., returned Saturday from their wedding trip to Florida and are making their home on 27th Street. Mrs. Powell is the former Miss Margaret Grimes of Virginia Beach.

E. A. Cunningham and Miss Alma Cunningham, of Richmond, will be the guests this week-end of Mr. Cunningham's daughter, Mrs. Roland Thorp, at her home on 78th Street.

Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Stetson and three children, who have been residing at the Link cottage on 51st Street, have left for Jacksonville, Fla., where Lieut. Comdr. Stetson has been transferred for duty.

Mrs. Jackson and Miss Elsie Cheek, of Raleigh, N. C., spent last week-end with Miss Irene Peterson, of Raleigh, N. C., at her cottage on 54th Street. On Friday they were the guests in Williamsburg, Va., of Miss Annie Webb, of Hillsboro and Raleigh, N. C., who is spending several weeks at the Williamsburg Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bell Jr., and their daughter, Miss Penny Bell, were the guests this week-end of Mrs. Bell's mother, Mrs. L. I. Thomas, at her home in Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. Bell attended the Virginia-V. M. I. football game in Charlottesville on Saturday.

Miss Louise Hunter Jones, of Washington, D. C., was the recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Ralph Jones, of Norfolk, who have been spending some time at the Andrews cottage on 79th Street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Allison Thomas have returned from their wedding trip to New York and are residing on Westover Avenue in Norfolk. Mrs. Thomas is the former Miss Mary Minor Jordan of Virginia Beach.

OCEANA HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Oceanic Celebrates UN Week

Oceana concluded a successful observance of United Nations Week with a student body assembly Tuesday. A faculty committee consisting of Mrs. Frances Higgins, Miss Catherine Long, and Miss June Lyon planned the activities for the week. Exhibits on the various nations of the world were displayed in the library. Students in the elementary grades contributed the many articles used for the exhibits. The theme, "Today's best hope for peace is UN—plus you," was illustrated with posters made by Clayton McGrath and Jodi Lantier, high school students. Teachers cooperated with the committee by streaming the theme in their classes.

Robert Stern, of the government and social science faculty of William and Mary Extension, Norfolk, addressed the group. In his talk, Mr. Stern discussed the importance of the United Nations and stressed the removal of the veto. He described the methods used by the main bodies, the General Assembly and the Security Council, regarding voting.

Miss Juanita Aldridge, student chairman, explained to the students the meaning of UN Day, relating the activities of the various classes in cooperation with the program. The eighth grade home economics classes made a United Nations flag, which was presented by Catherine Hicks to Mr. Strickler, principal. She also told of the clothes which had been made by this department for foreign relief. The library displays were described by Miss Peggy Low Wood.

Senior Privileges

A committee made up of students from the senior class met with Mr. Strickler to discuss privileges requested by the seniors. Those granted were: first to go to lunch; last to go to the assembly and first to leave; seniors in complete charge of the annual.

The senior home room sponsors are Miss Margaret Bailey and Mrs. Anne Owens.

Kempville to Meet Oceana

The Oceana Junior Varsity football team will meet the Kempville Junior Varsity under the lights at the Cavalier stadium Thursday, November 3 at 8 p.m. Since the varsity does not play during this week a large crowd is expected.

Oceana J. V.'s Defeat Creeds

A fighting underdog Oceana team rose up to defeat a favored Creeds High School team 7 to 6 last Thursday night. The little Cavaliers struck for their score in the first quarter on a long pass from Donald Marshall to Walter Graham. Ray Everton booted the extra point which meant the difference in the score. Creeds failed late in the game but failed in the extra point attempt. The game was hard fought throughout and both teams threatened to score several times.

Lighthouse

Subscriptions to the "Lighthouse" are being taken and over 200 were reported in the first two days. Although we consider this a fine start, about 800 more are needed. The staff is working hard towards the 300 goal and with everybody's help this newspaper can become a reality!

VVA Halloween Party

The Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring a Halloween party Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Cavalier Stadium. There will be square dancing, concessions of all sorts, and fun for everybody. Admission is free. All proceeds go to the Oceana F.T.A. for projects they are undertaking this year.

South Norfolk Defeats Oceana

South Norfolk won its initial tilt last Friday night at the expense of Oceana at Curaco Park in South Norfolk. The final score was 40 to 0 in favor of South Norfolk.

Women Attend District Meeting at Hotel Chamberlin

The Southeast District meeting of the Virginia Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., met at the Hotel Chamberlin, Old Point, Va., Saturday, October 21. Miss Sallie A. Neal, chairman, of the Portsmouth club, presided.

Workshops on program coordination, news service, and international relations were conducted by the state chairman.

All club members were requested to contribute gifts and articles of clothing for the needy children of Italy.

Members of the Princess Anne club attending were: Mrs. Ross

Meyler, president; Miss Emma Ashley, health chairman; Miss John Kinsell, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Nancy Strickler, state chairman international relations; Mrs. Phoebe Greenaway, Mrs. Mark White, news service chairman; and Mrs. Virginia Holland, state rules chairman.

A DEED — NOT A DEBT
Guarantee your family a DEED — NOT A DEBT by owning a Mortgage Redemption Policy.

This remarkable plan, at a cost of approximately one per cent of your mortgage, will guarantee that indebtedness on your home will be wiped off the books should you die prematurely.

This could be a great comfort to your family.

NO fair peeking at the sample prices over on the right till you put yourself to this test:

Look at the handsome honey pictured here—or recall the thousands like it that you've been seeing on the highways—and ask yourself what you think one would cost.

Bear in mind, this is an eight—and a very special eight—with the eager and ever-lively power of a high-compression valve-in-head engine that's a Fireball on foot.

Take stock of its generous expanse of safety plate glass that means extra visibility—and the soft-wide comfort of its deep-cushioned seats.

Take our word for it—or check for yourself—it rides like a dream—with coil springs on all four wheels instead of two—with big soft low-pressure tires on Buick's wide rims—and with feather-light handling for all its road-hugging lef.

Remember that such things as air cleaners, oil filters, dual horns, windshield wipers, sun visors and map lights, automatic dome lighting, and a built-in ventilation system all come as part and parcel of every Buick at no extra cost—and likewise that Buick, and Buick alone, offers Dynaflow Drive.* Then look at the prices and see how they jibe with your idea of what such a car should cost. If you've done any shopping, you'll quickly find out that you can own a Buick at prices that start below what you'd pay for some others.

Why not get the exact figures for the body type in the Series that exactly fits your taste and budget—starting now, with a visit to your Buick dealer.

Little Theatre Players Landed For Fine Work

The Virginia Beach Little Theatre started its third season on Monday with a hit production of "John Loves Mary."

The cast of seasoned Little Theatre players turned in a finished performance with most of the amateurish rough edges polished off. The direction of Mrs. Arthur Murray, in her first stint for the local Little Theatre, was good, and she has done a splendid job in putting on the stage of the Roland a fast moving, hilarious comedy. Audience reaction was enthusiastic, and applause for the performers loud and sincere.

Alfred Randolph's initial appearance on the Virginia Beach Little Theatre cast was splendid. He gave to his portrayal of Senator James McKinley, the father of the Mary of the title role, a charm and earnestness that paced the entire roster of players.

Constance Crockett Crosby, as Mary, and Hardy Cole, Jr., both contributed fine portrayals as the harried principals. Harry Rumble, as the obnoxious Lt. Victor O'Leary, was splendid, and his first appearance on the stage brought forth prolonged applause, a tribute to past performance.

The whole cast, in fact, was good—Sam Foote, Jr., Jane LaGiacca, Anne Henry, Conrad Little, Sam Fidgeon and Miles Chapell—all must accept their full share of the kudos.

And to round out the bouquets, Virginia Beach Little Theatre goes must receive a large one for Dr. Edward Myers, who made the

Frank Israel to be Associated With P. A. Florist Shop

Frank W. Israel, well known florist, has announced that he will be associated with Mrs. Alma Fulkard in the Princess Anne Florist Shop at Virginia Beach.

The popular young florist artist has made a name for himself in his profession since he went into floral design after World War II, in which he served with a medical detachment in the Philippines.

At the Mid-Atlantic Floral Association meeting in Washington, D. C., in the late 1930's, he was Virginia's sole representative among the 500 florists attending the meet. He was high warden for his work at that show, especially for a parson decorated with blue delphiniums and yellow daisies and a wedding fan of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

At the meeting of the Virginia Unit of Florists Telegraph Delivery Association at the Cavalier Hotel this summer, he again won note with his design. Most discussed was his bridegroom's bouquet of pink and maroon carnations with pink maline ruff and matching bow.
